Opposition Mounts in General Assembly to One Half Percent Income Tax Proposed by Fine

Harrisburg, March 22—(AP)—Opposition to Gov. Fine's proposed half percent state income tax mounted in the general assembly today.

Both house and senate Democrats said they would give the proposal a rugged going-over. Several Republicans privately expressed similar intentions.

Sen. John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), Democratic floor leader, said he thinks the levy of additional taxes is not necessary.

Dent said he is opposed particularly to a flat income tax on the grounds it violates the principle that all taxes should be uniform. "This hits the little fellow a lot harder than the big boys," Dent stated.

In the house, Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), Democratic floor leader, said he will seek a thorough investigation of the state's entire taxing system.

But GOP leadership in both houses was confident it could shove through Fine's entire program for producing $163,000,000 in new revenue the next two years.

Rep. Herbert P. Sorg (R-Elk), house speaker, said that chamber "will get down to business promptly" on the fiscal program expected to be introduced in the house Monday. Both houses recessed yesterday until Monday.

Fine yesterday outlined his tax program for the next two years, but the bills describing the actual operation of the income tax were delayed. In his tax message, Fine called for levy of the income tax to produce about $119,000,000 in the 1951-53 biennium. He also asked for a one per cent increase in the present four per cent corporate net income tax to make up the balance of the $163,000,000 estimated needed in new revenue to meet higher state costs.

Meanwhile, the big question today was just what deductions the flat income tax would allow Pennsylvanians. Another question was what will be done in the case of cities already levying local income taxes.

Local income taxes are now being levied by nine cities, 56 boroughs, 163 school districts and two townships. Capitol sources generally believe local tax law will be amended to permit the levy of both local and state income taxes.

The tax law now permits local communities, with certain exemptions, to tax anything not taxed by the state.

The question of deductions included in the income tax also was an important subject of speculation. The levy is expected to call for a system of deductions for business expenses of the self-employed in business and the professions.

But the average earner is expected to see the state income tax withheld from his paycheck just as his federal taxes are.

Architects Survey Site For New Barn

Two engineers from the architectural firm of Laurie and Green, Harrisburg, were here Tuesday, and inspected the site of the Rouse Home barn at Youngsville with county commissioners.

Plans call for a rebuilding of the barn this summer. It was completely destroyed by fire soon after having last year with a loss estimated at about $100,000.

The engineers took measurements of the old foundation and made a general survey of the area. Preliminary plans for the new structure will be submitted soon, and call for a one-story barn about 40 by 150 feet in size. Two new silos, one for grass and one for corn, will also be constructed.

Commissioners said that use of the old foundation is possible by cutting it to ground level. Work of doing this is now under way by men of the institution and will be done before the farming season starts.

MRS. PEPPER DIES

Devon, Pa., March 22—(AP)—Mrs. Charlotte Fisher Pepper, 85, wife of former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper, died today at her home in this Philadelphia suburb.

Woman With Only Year to Live Strengthened by Many Letters

Oklahoma City, March 22—(AP)—Mrs. Heart is alive—heartened with a new desire to get well.

In March, 1949, she asked the nation how to spend $10,000 in the year she thought was her last.

Doctors told the mystery woman a heart condition would bring death within that year.

"I have a new desire to get well," Mrs. Heart says. "And that's because of the interest so many strangers showed in me."

Mrs. Heart, a moderately wealthy Oklahoma City widow, told her story to the Daily Oklahoman just two years ago. The Associated Press relayed it to the world.

Letters poured in telling Mrs. Heart a multitude of ways to keep a spark of life. Others sought financial help—since she had

Fund For 40-Letter Alphabet Provided In Will of G. B. S.

London, March 22—(AP)—Playwright George Bernard Shaw, a pioneer British socialist who hated taxes, left an estate valued at $1,028,254.22 (£367,233) but reckoned after debts and taxes at $330,840. His will and an accounting disclosed today.

The 14-page document directed that part of the money be used for promoting a 40-letter alphabet which was one of the Irish wit's pet projects.

Shaw died last November in his little cottage at Ayot St. Lawrence at the age of 94.

This new estate, after settlement of all outstanding obligations, was £301,585 ($844,439). Estate taxes totaled £180,571 ($505,599).

Shaw's will directed his executor to "institute and finance a series of inquiries" to determine:

Railroads Reject Settlement Offer

Washington, March 22—(AP)—The nation's railroads today rejected a union proposal for settlement of their two-year-old dispute with the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

D. P. Loomis, representing the carriers, announced the railroads' decision to the Senate Labor Committee at a public hearing.

Senator Murray (D-Mont.), the committee chairman, had called on the carriers earlier to accept the settlement proposal put forth by the trainmen.

Murray had said he was hopeful that if the carriers and the trainmen could get together, it would lead also to a settlement of differences between the railroads and three other operating unions.

The trainmen's proposal, outlined to the carriers yesterday by Murray, was based substantially on a "memorandum of agreement" signed by the carriers and the chiefs of the four unions at the White House last Dec. 21. It later was rejected by local union officials.

The trainmen proposed two changes in that December agreement.

They want another arbitrator appointed in place of John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman.

They also want a working condition rule dealing with the coupling of air hose left to negotiation between individual railroads and the unions.

Loomis told the committee, which has been investigating the long-standing dispute, that the carriers could not agree to either proposed change.

Issue Bench Warrant For Tax Consultant

Eric, March 22—(AP)—Sheldon H. Wolfe, Sr., former Meadville tax consultant, is being sought on a bench warrant to answer federal charges of making out 41 false income tax returns.

Wolfe, who was indicted yesterday, is a former deputy collector of internal revenue in the western Pennsylvania district. He is accused of making "false and fraudulent income tax reports" for 41 Meadville customers.

U. S. treasury officials said the amount involved may exceed $175,000.

Traditional Devotion Service Planned Tomorrow Afternoon

The community-wide devotions held traditionally on Good Friday afternoon from twelve until three are again scheduled in First Methodist church, Market street and Second avenue.

Dr. Arthur E. Colley, pastor, and sponsor of the services, the Warren County Ministerial Association, extend a cordial invitation to all in the community to attend all or some part of the devotional period.

Based, as always, on "The Seven Last Words of the Cross", the service includes meditations on these "words", scripture suited to each, and special music.

For the first word, "Father, Forgive Them", Dr. Colley will read the scripture and offer prayer and Rev. Milton G. Perry, First Baptist pastor, will speak.

Mr. Perry will give the scripture and prayer for the second word, "Today Shalt Thou Be With Me", and Rev. David Carlson, of Bethlehem Covenant church, will speak. Norma Haight will sing "The Crucifixion" by Faure.

The third word, "Woman, Behold Thy Son", will be presented by Rev. Clarence Baldwin, Grace Methodist minister, with Rev. David Carlson reading scripture and offering prayer.

In the fourth period, "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me", Virginia Fredrickson Johnson will sing "He Was Alone" by Paxson. Rev. Baldwin will have the scripture and prayer, and the message will be delivered by Rev. James Kelly, of Epworth Methodist church.

Rev. E. W. Chitester, Youngsville Methodist pastor, will give the meditation on the fifth word, "I Thirst", scripture and prayer will be by Rev. George Snow, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness church.

Dr. Robert Steen, minister of First Presbyterian church, will be the speaker for the following period and the sixth word, "It Is Finished", while Rev. Roger Morey, of Bethel Evangelical United Brethren church, will give the scripture and prayer; Jack Haight and Monroe Marshall will sing "So Thou Lifest They Divine Petition" by Stainer.

Concluding, the seventh word, "Father, Into Thy Hands", Dr. Colley will speak and Rev. Fred Miller, of Calvary Baptist church, will give the scripture and prayer.

Special music, at the organ, and carefully chosen hymns always add much to this traditionally solemn service and those wishing to enter or leave the church are asked to do so during the musical intermissions.

Jaycees to Hold Safety Campaign

The weeks of April 2-6 and 9-13 were designated last night by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce as safe driving weeks here.

On each of the 10 days one person driving in Warren will be awarded $5 for operating his or her car in a conspicuously safe way. Jaycees will tour borough streets for the daily winners and they will also record some of the more dangerous driving practices they see.

Funds for the prizes were donated by four local insurance firms, Paul Yagge of Warren County Insurance Agency, Logan Bolan, Garrison Insurance Agency and Floyd Conklin. The Warren Motor Club also supplied funds for the campaign.

These agencies actually offered nearly double the amount needed for the campaign. The extra funds will be returned to them by the Jaycees.

The safe driving campaign is being conducted by the Jaycee Safe Driving Committee consisting of Logan Bolan, Robert Buyer, William Farin, James Hess, Martin Johnson, John Newmaker and Charles Swanson.

Meanwhile plans are progressing for the Fourth of July Celebration. Jack Barr and Milt Dahler, co-chairman announced last evening (Turn to Page Twelve)

Alger Hiss Begins Perjury Sentence

New York, March 22—(AP)—Alger Hiss, one-time bright young star of President Roosevelt's New Deal, surrendered today to begin serving a five-year prison term for perjury.

The 46-year-old former high state department official—his appeals to the higher court rejected—gave himself up to federal Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Hiss was convicted Jan. 21, 1950 on two counts of perjury. The conviction, in effect, branded him a liar and traitor who betrayed his country by turning over government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, admitted courier of a Communist spy ring.

The courtroom proceedings lasted less than half a minute. David Sweeney, court clerk, called out Hiss' name and the lanky convicted perjurer surrendered himself into the custody of Chief U. S. Deputy Marshall Tom Farley.

Asked if he had any statement to make, ex-diplomat Hiss smiled and said:

"I have nothing to add to the statement which I issued when the Supreme Court denied certiorari."

Former Betting Commissioner Had Been Cited for Contempt

Washington, March 22—(AP)—James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner who once balked at testifying before TV cameras, came before senate crime investigators today with a chance to escape a possible contempt charge.

Carroll, wearing dark glasses, had hardly settled in the witness chair before his lawyer began a new argument over TV and radio broadcasts.

Morris Shenker, St. Louis attorney representing Carroll, said his client did not want to appear on television or have his testimony rebroadcast by radio or movies later.

Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), presiding, told him the same rules would be followed that prevailed in the New York appearance of gambler Frank Costello who also objected to TV.

Only Costello's hands were shown on the TV screens. Shenker complained that some movie companies had taken pictures of Costello and then had linked radio recordings of his testimony to the movies. He didn't want that to happen to Carroll, Shenker said, adding:

"Any movies that are taken or rebroadcasts that are made against Mr. Carroll's wishes and in violation of his constitutional rights. He no longer is a public figure. He is not engaged in any business. He is retired."

In the past, committee members have disputed Carroll's contention that he has retired as an odds maker and a bet taker. Carroll flatly refused to testify before TV at committee hearings in St. Louis last month. As a result, the committee voted to cite him for contempt.

It was in an effort to lift this charge against his client that Shenker brought Carroll to Washington. He said Carroll paid his own expenses here from St. Louis.

The scene of today's hearings was the somewhat ornate, marble-pillared senate caucus room. Carroll was only the first of several prospective witnesses for hearings expected to run throughout the day.

One to be heard later was ex-Senator (Turn to Page Twelve)

Troops For Europe Approval Indicated

Washington, March 22—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona predicted today the senate would pass two troops-for-Europe resolutions by "substantial majorities." Voting has been set for April 2.

The date was agreed on last night after seven hours of debate. Opposing commitment of American foot soldiers to Europe, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), attacked the defense plan as a "military joke." He predicted Russia would not have 500 atomic bombs before 1960, and added:

"They are far behind us in the production of this lethal weapon."

Johnson, a member of the Senate-House Atomic Committee, put his blast at the troops resolutions in a speech prepared for yesterday's debate. The senate adjourned before he got the floor, and he hopes to make the speech today.

Instead of sending troops to an international army in Europe, Johnson proposed that the U. S. build up strong air bases in Turkey and Iceland. That action should be followed, he said, by telling Russia:

"We want peace and we aim to have it. If you want peace also you can have peace and for a long, long time, but if you start aggression in any direction or against any nation, then every Russian city will be pulverized within a few days time."

The senate starts a three-day recess at the end of today's debate. House members are due back from a 10-day Easter holiday April 2.

Retail Stores to Close Three Hours

Members of the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Warren Chamber of Commerce will close their stores from noon until three p. m. tomorrow in order to give all persons opportunity to attend Good Friday services. Drug stores and barbershops also will close.

In Youngsville, stores will be closed from 12:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m., it was announced by the Business Peoples Association.

With Good Friday a legal holiday, all banks and state offices will be closed for the entire day. The Court House offices will also be closed for the entire day.

Postoffice windows and mail deliveries will be in operation as usual.

The Warren Hotel, Tavern and Club Association has announced that all bars will be closed also from noon to three p. m. State liquor stores will be closed for the entire day.

American Tank-Led Patrol Shoots Way Out of Red Ambush

Tokyo, March 22—(AP)—An American tank-infantry patrol with mine-hunting engineers today shot its way out of a Communist ambush less than three miles from the Red Korean border.

The tanks were moving up one side of the Pukhan river north of Chunchon and the infantry were plodding along the opposite bank when the Reds opened fire.

From high ground they poured machinegun, rifle and mortar fire on all sides of the patrol.

"They let us walk into the trap and then they sprang it," said Cpl. Charley Hamilton, Virginia City, Va. "Our tanks opened up on the hillside with everything they had, but it didn't stop the Chinese."

"Enemy fire was all around us everywhere we turned. We finally scrambled across to the tanks and they kept the Chinese down on one side while we moved out."

The tanks pulled back to Chunchon, carrying the wounded.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, disclosed that it was U. S. First Cavalry troops who occupied Chunchon Wednesday.

Ridgway messaged their commander, Maj. Gen. Charles D. Palmer: "Thanks for Chunchon. Congratulations to you and your fine division."

In the air, American Sabre jet fighters probably shot down a Russian-built MIG-15 jet and damaged another over northwest Korea.

Four F-86 Sabres drew 6 MIGs into combat at 28,000 feet Thursday just south of the Yalu river border city of Sinuiju.

The pilot who scored the probable kill said he fired two bursts into the Red jet, the second from only 200 feet. He said the MIG went into a violent spin.

Another American pilot caught a MIG in a turn and saw his bullets rip into the plane, which streaked north toward Manchuria.

An estimated 6,000 Reds were reported dug in six or seven miles north of Chunchon.

The bulk of the Communist troops, however, appeared to have pulled back north of parallel 38.

But in the west, the Reds were getting set for a strong stand south of the parallel. (Turn to Page Twelve)

28th Division Nine Preps For 1st Tilt

Camp Aterbury, Ind., March 22—(AP)—The 28th Infantry Division baseball team, headed by Cpl. Curt Simmons, an ex-major leaguer, is holding regular practice sessions.

The team is getting ready for its season opener April 7 against Indiana University at Bloomington.

The Keystone Division Nine was formed under the direction of Acting Special Service Officer Lt. Eugene Hiss of Biglerville, Pa.

Adverse weather has kept the squad indoors most of the spring. But when the snows let up, the boys will move outdoors.

Simmons, who won 17 games for the Philadelphia Phillies last season before being ordered into service, heads the list of hurlers.

Another Philly finger, Cpl. Charles Bicknell, has shown up well in early workouts. Two others who look good are Pvt. Bob Millikan, Brooklyn farmhand who performed with Montreal of the International League last season, and Pvt. Joe May, from Pueblo of the western association.

Legionnaires Color 2200 Eggs For Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

An egg-coloring party was held at the Legion Home last evening, when over 2,200 eggs were prepared by the committee in connection with the American Legion Easter Egg Hunt to be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Crescent Park.

Warren merchants have contributed a record number of over 500 prize eggs to be hidden with the regular colored and cream-filled chocolate eggs.

Children from the Hoffman Home will be transported to and from the hunt through the courtesy of Warren City Lines, Inc., and the children patients at Warren General Hospital will be taken eggs immediately after the hunt.

The Lewis Market sound truck will also be on hand in case of any emergency.

Through the cooperation of the city park department, headed by Gilbert Reier, ropes and snow fences have been erected to separate the various age groups and to guard the river bank.

Commander Bill Lundahl asks that all Legionnaires report to Crescent Park at 1:30 p. m. Saturday to help with the supervision of the children.

Three-hour Worship Service Is Planned Friday at Sheffield

Sheffield, March 22—Good Friday services in the combined Holy Week services will be held tomorrow from noon to 3 p. m. at the First Methodist church with the Seven Words from the Cross as the theme of the worship periods. Speakers will include the Rev. Grant L. Mottern of the First Methodist church; the Rev. Clarence Leslie of Tabor Lutheran in Kane; the Rev. John McCleery of the Free Methodist; the Rev. Herman Davidson of Ludlow; the Rev. Hans Pearson of the Bethany Lutheran church; the Rev. H. H. Barr, retired Methodist minister of Warren; and the Rev. Arthur McCormick, retired Presbyterian minister, Warren.

Participating churches in the Union Lenten services in Sheffield are the First Methodist, Free Methodist and Bethany Lutheran churches.

Good Friday services at St. Michael's Greek Rite Catholic church include a special funeral service for the dead Jesus Christ at 7 p. m.

There will be silent meditation at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church on Good Friday from noon to 2:30 p. m. at which time there will be the Stations of the Cross and Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bagnato, Bradford, are the parents of a son, Francis, born about 8 a. m. yesterday in the Bradford hospital. Mrs. Bagnato is the former Jane Baynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baynes, Francis, who weighed six pounds 11 ounces at Mrs. John Munson underwent surgery Tuesday at Kane community hospital. Mrs. Milton Peterson returned to her home Wednesday from Eli county general hospital, Ridgway, where she underwent surgery last week.

Mrs. J. Axel Nelson, Sheffield resident who is seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Neil Edward of Buffalo, N. Y., will observe her 80th birthday anniversary tomorrow. A group of Sheffield ladies visited her Sunday and had a party to celebrate the anniversary early.

Holy Week Service At Holy Redeemer Announced Today

Holy Week services for the remainder of the week at the Holy Redeemer church are announced today as follows:

This evening the usual Holy Thursday services will be held at 7:30 o'clock. Following this service the men of the parish, assisted by members of the Knights of Columbus, will begin an all night vigil in the church, honoring the Blessed Sacrament. The men will keep watch until time for the Mass of the Presanctified on Friday morning.

The service of Three Hours Agony of Christ on the Cross will begin at 12 o'clock noon on Friday and continue until 3 p. m. A Redeemerist missionary will conduct this devotion.

Good Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock the passion of Christ will be read, Adoration of the Cross and other Lenten devotions.

Mass on Sunday will be at 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 o'clock a. m. The 11 o'clock Mass will be a high Mass, followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Times Topics

Legion members will place 30 dozen eggs, with prizes donated by Youngville merchants, business and professional people.

MOTHER OF GIRL FINED

A 15-year-old Junior high student and her mother appeared before Alderman N. Allen Love yesterday because the home visitor of the Titusville School District had filed a complaint against the girl's parents for their failure to have the child in school. The mother was fined $2 and costs of $5.50 and was told that the fine increases for each succeeding complaint. The mother paid the fine and costs and promised to have the daughter in school.

CAR RAMS BUS

None of the 25 students riding in a Spartansburg school bus was injured Monday afternoon when a car rammed it at a railroad crossing in Spartansburg. The bus driver, Oliver Thompson, 34, of Spartansburg, said he stopped the bus at the crossing in compliance with the law. Leonard Jackson, 17, of Spartansburg, R. D., a student at the school, told police steam and rain on his windshield prevented him from seeing the bus until too late. Damage to the bus was estimated at $25 and to the car $250.

Chautauqua Opera Association to Offer Seven Plays

The Chautauqua Opera Association will present seven operas at Norton Memorial Hall, including two of Verdi's great favorites, during the 1951 season. It is announced by Ralph McCallister, director of program. Under the direction of Alfredo Valentini of New York City, the Association will mark the 50th anniversary of Verdi's death by presenting "Rigoletto" and "Aida," by Verdi. This will be the first presentation of "Aida" at Chautauqua during the 23 years of the Association's activities.

The season will open on July 13 with a performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe". A second performance will be given on July 16. "Aida" will follow on July 20 and 23. "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart is scheduled on July 27 and 30, and Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" will be presented on August 3 and 6. A double bill of "Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo and "Cox and Box" by Burnard and Sullivan will be given on August 10 and 13. The final program will be Verdi's "Rigoletto", August 17 and 20.

Artistic director and general director of the Chautauqua Opera Association since its opening program, Mr. Valentini will have Alberto Bimboni of New York City and Edward Murphy of St. Louis as conductors of the Opera orchestra. Members of the orchestra are selected from the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra. Jessie Mackel is chorus director and Winona Bimboni ballet mistress. Ethlyn Gallagher and Gertrude Trobe are assistants to Mr. Valentini. Albion Adams is business manager of the Association.

RENT CONTROL NEWS RELEASE

Office of The Housing Expediter, Area Rent Office, 707 Commerce Building, Erie, Penn'a

Office of The Housing Expediter
Erie County Area Rent Office 707
Commerce Building, Erie, Pennsylvania

QUESTION: For the past two years I have been unable to secure a married hired man to help me on my farm and have consequently rented out a second farm house on my property to a factory worker.

I now have a chance to get a married couple to help me on the farm after April 15, if I can evict the present tenant by that time. What do I have to do to evict the present tenant?

ANSWER: Petition the Rent Office for a Certificate Relating to Eviction requesting that you be permitted to evict the present tenant for this purpose and submit a signed statement by the married couple that they have made arrangements to work for you after April 15 on condition that the farm house is made available to them. If the Rent Office is satisfied as to the facts in the case a Certificate Relating to Eviction will be issued reducing the usual 3-months' period in the time indicated.

QUESTION: In the fall of 1947 I agreed to a 15% increase in rent and my landlord and I entered into a long-term lease which was filed with the Rent Office and approved by it. My landlord is now insisting that he is entitled to another 15% increase under the law. Is this true?

ANSWER: This is not true. If your landlord has already received one 15% increase in rent by reason of increase in cost of maintenance and taxes, he is not entitled to any additional amount for increased costs unless he petitions the Rent Office and establishes to the satisfaction of the Rent Office that his increase in costs is greater than 15%. Your landlord would be guilty of an overcharge were he to collect more money than the Rent Office, by order, has previously approved.

QUESTION: I am considering the purchase of a two-family house for $13,000. I intend to live in the first floor and continue to rent the second floor. The rent for the second floor was $40 a month and has since been increased to $46 by 15% increase for increased cost of maintenance. If I am to purchase this house at the price demanded I feel that I will need a higher rent on the second floor. Will this be a basis for an increase in rent?

ANSWER: No! Under the law the Rent Office is not able to take into consideration the price you pay for this house. In purchasing this house you should clearly understand that the maximum legal rent for the second floor unit will not be increased beyond the present rent of $46 per month without major capital improvement or increase in services or increase in occupancy or one of the other bases for increase in rent.

QUESTION: My landlord tells me that the apartment I occupy is not under rent control. How can I be certain that this is correct?

ANSWER: Check with the Rent Office at 707 Commerce Building which will be able to tell you whether there is a registration on file for this unit or whether decontrol papers have been filed and the unit ruled not under rent control by the Rent Office. If the Rent Office has nothing on file for this unit it will take action to secure a registration or the filing of decontrol papers.

Farmers of Penn'a Are Advised to Use Certified Seeds

Harrisburg—With the approach of spring planting, farmers of Pennsylvania are urged to use state certified seed to assist in obtaining maximum production of war emergency crops in 1951.

According to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture, certified seed is better because it has been produced in a manner to insure purity of variety, high germination, a minimum of weed seed, and a relative freedom from seed borne diseases, mechanical and insect injuries.

The purpose of seed certification by the State Department of Agriculture is to maintain and make available to growers high quality seeds of superior crop plant varieties so grown and distributed as to insure pure strains. List of producers of Pennsylvania certified seeds grown in 1950, are obtainable from any County Agent or from the Bureau of Plant Industry.

To assure production of high quality seed the growers are regulated by rules formulated by the department. A grower of certified seed notifies the department that he desires to enter his acreage for inspection. Agents of the bureau visit his fields at regular intervals during the growing season to observe the presence of disease, insects and weeds. By the end of the season the acreage is accepted or rejected on the basis of quality. The seed must pass high purity and germination tests before it may be sold as state certified seed.

Any grower may obtain from the Bureau of Plant Industry a list of crops and varieties which is made up each year with varieties selected by the Pennsylvania Agriculture Experiment Station at the Pennsylvania State College on the basis of superior performance in tests at the college station.

THE WAY TO CALVARY

On the cross above the head of Jesus was nailed an inscription written by Pilate: "Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews." Caiaphas demanded it be changed to: "He said I am king," but Pilate stubbornly refused.

Suffering for three hours upon the cross, Christ spoke seven times. First He pleaded, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." Then, to one of the thieves, Dismas, who expressed faith in Him, He promised Paradise. To His disciple John, He committed the care of His mother. Once, raising His eyes to the heavens, He cried out: "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" Near the end, He said, "I thirst." The sixth utterance was, "It is consummated." Finally He cried out in a loud voice, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

THE TV QUESTION

Looks like Frankie "The Hands" Costello and Jim Carroll, St. Louis odds-maker, got away with saying nix to TV pictures of them testifying.

So the two big questions raised by them will go unanswered until someone else raises them, questions which must have occurred to millions watching the senate's Kefauver crime investigating committee on TV this week:

1. How would you feel if you were called to testify before a congressional committee and, facing a battery of TV cameras, knew that every twitch of a face muscle was being watched by millions around the country?

2. Do you think you'd have a right to refuse to testify before TV? If you did and later were convicted, after a trial in federal court, of contempt of congress, you could be jailed for a year.

The answer to No. 2 will not be known until someone some day flatly refuses, is convicted of contempt, appeals to the supreme court, and gets a decision from that tribunal which always has the final word.

A person on the witness stand before a congressional investigating committee is not on trial in the strict sense although the testimony he gives may discredit him or actually lead to a later trial and jail for some offense.

The supreme court itself has rigid views about what should be permitted inside federal courts where people are tried. It has ruled absolutely no pictures of court proceedings. That means not only TV but no still newspaper photos and no movies.

It doesn't necessarily follow that the court would rule that no pictures—or at least no TV pictures—can be taken in a congressional hearing if a witness doesn't want to face the cameras.

The Kefauver committee itself may have had some doubts about its right to force a witness before it to testify in full view of TV.

YOUNG MAN WITH A FUTURE

Comedian Milton Berle has signed a contract with NBC for the next 30 years. Since he's 42 now, he'll be 72 when the arrangement expires.

Nothing likes it ever has occurred in the entertainment world, and you'd probably have to scour a long while to turn up a parallel anywhere in business.

One can't help wondering just what the boys had in mind. If NBC was trying to insure that Berle wouldn't be spirited off by a rival network, they seem to have overdone it a bit.

But maybe there are plans for Milton to undertake a progression of roles suitable to his gradual aging through the three decades of this pact. With ancient Ed Wynn as a model, he certainly won't give up comedy altogether. But as he reaches the last years of the contract span, he may find himself cast occasionally as a kindly grandfather, or standing in for Uncle Sam in bond drives.

Anyway, it looks like he can tear up his social security card.

THE SYMBOL OF THE CROSS

For many centuries the cross was a symbol of shame and death. It was the instrument of the most cruel type of punishment known to men, involving humiliation, extreme physical torture, and long drawn out death. But from the fourth century, when Constantine, inspired by his celestial vision, adopted the cross as a sign of victory, it has become the symbol of Christian faith and devotion to the world over.

The cross pointing up to heaven directs our thoughts to God, "Who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." The love of God finds its greatest expression in earth's darkest hour, when hate and greed and lust in men combined to crucify the earth's fairest and purest and perfect Son of Man.

The arms of the cross to which were nailed the outstretched hands of Jesus remind us of His service. What wonderful hands Jesus had! Firm and strong, yet calloused and soiled with service. Into the industry of the modern world has come this ideal of service. It is the keystone upon which the arch of success depends. But it took the cross of calvary to teach this lesson of service to the world.

The hands of Jesus stretched out upon the cross, were blood-stained hands and they remind us of His sacrifice. The cross which today looks so beautiful, and when worn as a golden ornament, is an innocent object of aesthetic adornment, was once a cruel instrument of torture. Upon it Christ gave His life that we might live. Truly we should sing with new enthusiasm

"In the cross of Christ, I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story

Here And There

Holy Week is fast coming to a close. In many churches of the community services were held today in commemoration of Maundy Thursday. Tomorrow will be Good Friday, with stores closing in town for the traditional three-hour community services in the First Methodist, while services will be held in a number of other churches. Easter Sunday this year comes three days after its earliest possible date. It is always the first Sunday after the full moon occurring on or next after the vernal equinox of March 21, the first day of Spring. However, if that full moon happens along on a Sunday, Easter Sunday is one week later. So Easter can never be earlier than March 22 nor later than April 25. It came on the latter for these dates in 1943; it will not again come so late until the year 2038. It fell on March 24 in 1940. The word seems to be derived from "Eostre," the Anglo-Saxon name for the goddess of the Spring. The variable date for Easter was set by the council of the Christian churches at Nicea, in Asia Minor, in 325 A. D. By that time thousands of pilgrims were traveling on foot to Jerusalem and other holy shrines to celebrate the Resurrection. That first council at Nicea wanted the Easter pilgrim's footsteps always to be aided by the light of the full moon. For centuries the eating of eggs was banned during Lent, so special attention was paid to them when the Lenten season ended. They were colored to symbolize joy. Also, the egg was an ancient symbol of the germinating life of the Spring-time, as was the rabbit.

This 'N That: Beginning at sunset last night and lasting until sunset tonight Jews throughout the whole world are celebrating the Feast of Purim. . . Colored chicks in the windows of Sellins Hatchery and Supply Co., Pennsylvania avenue east, near the Conewango bridge, have been exciting much attention from motorists and pedestrians passing the establishment this week. . . speaking of "peeps" four hundred baby chicks scammed over two Allegheny College fraternity houses Sunday morning in an Easter season prank, when pledges of the fraternities ordered the chicks as a joke on active members of the chapters, and later the "peeps" were taken out to the Bethesda Home where they will provide chicken dinners in about twelve weeks. . . According to the extended weather forecast extending through Saturday and Sunday lower temperature is expected Sunday following rain Friday or Saturday. . . ## Touchy Questions Dealt With At First Manpower Meeting

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Following the first meeting of the government's Advisory Committee on Manpower in Washington, labor hiring and placement policies for the national defense effort will begin to take shape.

Manpower control has been a principal bone of contention in the union labor leaders' walk-out from participation in the defense program. The United Labor Policy Committee has wanted manpower direction left in the Department of Labor. This group has also wanted a top union labor official appointed as manpower director on the staff of Charles E. Wilson, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization. Instead of following this advice, Mr. Wilson appointed Dr. Arthur Flemming as his top manpower official. A former Civil Service commissioner, Dr. Flemming has been President of Ohio Wesleyan University since 1948. During the last war he was a member of the War Manpower Commission, and in this post he worked closely with union labor officials.

Because of the ruckus stirred up by the Labor Policy Committee, Dr. Flemming has kept pretty well in the background since coming to Washington for his new job. It was he, however, who called the first Manpower Advisory Committee meeting.

Principal administration will be under ex-Sen. Frank P. Graham, just named manpower director in the Labor Department, which has already started to set up labor-management advisory committees. Dr. Flemming's role will be to coordinate policy.

AMONG the problems before the Flemming office and the Manpower Advisory Committee are:

1. A quick training program. With fuller employment now, there are more skills to draw on. During the last war 14 million working men and women had to be given vocational training. It won't have to be that big a program this time.

2. Unemployment insurance. As civilian industries close down for lack of materials, there may be some unemployment. President Truman has previously requested increased unemployment insurance benefits and lengthening the insured period. New recommendations may again go to Congress. So far, however, employment has increased from month to month. If this keeps up, the transition to defense production may be smoother and with little dislocation.

3. Change the work week. If a manpower shortage develops, demands for a longer work week will be heard. So far, the only proposal is to go from 40 to 44 hours before starting overtime rates. In the last war the drive for a 48-hour work week fell flat.

4. Plant location. There is today no area in which a new defense plant can be put to draw on surplus labor. Every new site selected in the future will have to be determined by a shift of labor from non-essential industry, as well as by availability of power, transportation, raw materials and housing.

5. PROJECTIONS. So far there have been no tables prepared on how many men will be needed for defense production, when and where. Projecting the employment and draft curves to show total manpower requirements is a first job of government agencies operating under Dr. Flemming's directives.

6. College deferments. Universal military training legislation now before Congress considers only the draft of 18-year-olds. New regulations must soon be issued by Selective Service Commission to decide what older students may be deferred, in order to provide adequate supplies of professional and scientific workers for the future.

There is now no consideration of excusing these deferred students from all military service. The only purpose of deferment is to postpone military duty until a greater service can be given through trained

Demand For Meat Relatively Light As Homes Plan For Festive Easter Dinner

By The Associated Press

Demand for meat continued relatively light this week, even as preparations were being made in millions of American homes for a festive Easter dinner.

Ham was in abundant supply in the supermarkets and independent stores, and some stores predicted week-end specials. By mid-week, prices in some cities had already dropped a cent or two a pound.

Also in heavy demand this week is turkey, described in some trade circles as "perhaps the week's best buy." Here, too, special sales are hinted for the Easter weekend.

Chicken remains a heavy favorite with marketwise housewives, but while demand continues firm, the supply is so overwhelming that price cuts are reported here and there. Prices of broilers and fryers have dropped around two cents a pound in at least two major cities.

Eggs this week are in a very special category—higher generally along the east coast, but lower in price west of the Alleghenies. The top grade "A" variety are selling three cents a dozen lower than last week in some Los Angeles stores; four cents lower in Chicago and two cents lower in Detroit, but two cents higher in New York and Philadelphia. Whole-salers blame recent heavy snows that have slowed shipment of western eggs to eastern markets.

Fears were expressed this week that the hoped-for increase in poultry, egg, dairy and meat production might not materialize—that this year's output might fall short

YANK IN THE BREECH—Slightly rifled, but true, is this shell-eye view of the outer world as seen through the barrel of a 155-mm. howitzer on the central Korean front. ing defense economy. These fears had their basis in a Department of Agriculture forecast that farmers will grow less corn this year than the government's quota of 3,500,000,000 bushels.

Corn is the basic feed for poultry and livestock.

In the produce department, fresh vegetables showed little change in price this week. Some gained slightly, some declined and others stayed the same. Cabbage, a favorite staple on many an American dinner table, was among those which declined a few pennies.

PUBLIC LIBRARY TO OBSERVE GOOD FRIDAY

The Warren Public Library will be closed tomorrow afternoon between the hours of twelve o'clock and three o'clock during the Good Friday services.

In response to inquiries about library hours on Wednesdays, the librarian reports that regular hours are observed on Wednesdays during the school year. During the summer vacation months of June, July and August, the public library closes at one o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday only. The remainder of the year, the library is open until nine o'clock in the evening Monday through Friday.

FIRST INTERNATIONALLY

The first international air line, operating between Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, British Columbia, Canada, was established in 1920.

I-M-M-O-R-T-A-L W-O-R-D-S

By special request we reprint the following written and composed December 1, 1942, by the late T. Richard Evans, who was justice of the peace in Warren when he passed away some years ago:

Destiny has placed in our hands the conduct of this world. Let the light of experience shining through the pages of history Guide us in that which we determine to be the best of all mankind. The makers of the Peace should ever keep in mind the immortal words of the Declaration of Independence, "We hold these truths to be self evident, That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator

With certain unalienable rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The noblest ideal of government ever conceived in the mind of man. True, there have been times when these ideals were threatened by Willful, greedy individuals. Great Lincoln in his Proclamation of Emancipation uttered these words:

"This nation cannot live half slave and half free." Let the makers of the Peace keep in mind That this world cannot so exist: That no man is fit to govern another without that man's consent; That is not self government. Let them keep in mind that Justice is the proper bearing of individuals in a community towards each other, and of the State towards the individuals who compose it. Let them keep in mind that willful and wanton individuals Created the monster of War, whose altar is piled with the Sacrifice of the youths of the nation, and, like vampire bats, they Hover above this desolation and destruction of all that man holds dear. That their selfish ambition and greed be satisfied.

Music Featured at Grace Methodist

Grace church pastor, Rev. C. W. Baldwin, and its choir extend to all members and friends of the parish a cordial invitation to enjoy the program of sacred music which is to be presented at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Edwin Jack is the choir director, Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen is organist and Mrs. Dwight Silze, the pianist, for the following numbers:

Part I. The Passion—Organ prelude: Processional to Calvary; Stainer; candlelight processional: In the Hour of Trial; Organ and piano: Meditation at the Cross, Hopkins; Go to Dark Gethsemane, Noble; contralto solo: He Was Despaired, from Handel's "Messiah"; Mrs. Carl Lindquist; Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs, from the "Messiah"; male chorus: It Was For Me, Blount; Jesus, Our Lord, We Adore Thee, James.

Part II. The Resurrection—Scripture; prayer, Rev. Baldwin; choral response: Grant Us Thy Peace, Evans; offertory: I Know That My Redeemer Liveth, from the Messiah; Carpathian Easter Carol, Gaul; soprano solo: Come, See the Place Where Jesus Lay, Ambrose, Mrs. Norman Pierce; Resurrection, Ukrainian spiritual arranged by Kosschetz; baritone solo: Hohanna by Granier, Earl Ericson; King of Kings, Simper, with solo part by Mrs. Ray Krebs; benediction and choral response: The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee, Lutkin; postlude: He Is Risen, Oesten.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES EXTEND INVITATION

The Warren Company of Jehovah's Witnesses extends an invitation to all interested persons to participate with its members in the celebration of the Memorial of the Last Supper. This year, the Memorial comes on Friday, March 23, and will be held at Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 129 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

Starting this Sunday, eight public lectures are to be given at this same location by local and out of town speakers. Each lecture will begin at 3 p. m. and will include discussion of Bible topics which point out the only hope of the nations—the Kingdom.

EASTER SERVICE AT LANDER CHURCH

The children's Easter program at Lander Methodist church will be given at ten o'clock Easter Sunday, with the regular preaching service at 11 o'clock.

Sunday evening at eight o'clock, the junior and senior choirs, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Ludwig, will give an Easter cantata, "The Easter Revelation."

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

The annual three-hour Good Friday service for the community of Youngsville will be held in Saron Lutheran church, beginning at twelve, noon, and continuing until three o'clock.

There Are Ways to Outwit 'Subversive' Mother-in-Law

A YOUNG wife writes: "What can you do when your mother-in-law pretends to like you, but is always undermining you with your husband in sly ways?"

"My husband has no idea of what she is doing, and yet she always manages to get her point across—that I've been extravagant in a certain instance, or that I'm scatter-brained, or that my job is a snap compared with his."

"She does this all so cleverly, I didn't even realize what she was doing for a long time. Now that I'm aware of what is going on, I'm still helpless. I don't want to have mother-in-law trouble and get my husband in the middle of it. And yet I know I can't just go on letting her undermine me. What do you suggest?"

If you're sure you aren't being too sensitive or looking for trouble or imagining undercurrents where none exist—and you should make certain you aren't making any such mistake—then you'll have to develop some kind of technique for protecting yourself.

ATTACK!

WHEN your mother-in-law has implanted some idea critical of you in your husband's mind and he is scarcely aware of how it got there, scotch it by a direct, though good-natured attack.

Say something like: "I'm afraid your mother thinks I was extravagant in paying so much for a suit. We just don't think alike about clothes, I guess. I'd rather have one good suit and wear it three years. And she would rather pay less for a suit or dress and have more of them." That's the idea you might work on. Bring the criticism out into the open in a reasonable manner that is free of resentment, present your own side and then drop the subject. That is better than letting her get away with her strategy and better than telling your husband what she is up to.

Hang on to your sense of humor; work your tolerance overtime; and tell your mother-in-law as little of your business as you can.

Easter Drama at 1st Baptist Church Song Service for Bethlehem Church

An Easter drama, "The Bearer of the Cross" by Mattie B. Shannon, will be presented in the First Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. Easter Sunday. The events of this imaginary story connected with the first Easter-tide take place in the home of Simon of Cyrene, owner of a small farm near Jerusalem, and the time is April of 30 A. D.

Appearing in the cast will be the following: Simon of Cyrene, Louis Elder; Eunice, his wife, Lin-ear Lucas; Beulah, their daughter, Jean Carlson; Alexander, their son, Blain Lauffer; Rufus, another son, Charles Smith; Adah, a cousin from Bethany, Jean Irwin.

Ruby Carlson is directing the production; LeRoy Stoddard is in charge of special lighting effects and Robert Carlson, properties, with Lila Carr as the prompter.

The state flower of both Washington and West Virginia is the rhododendron.

THREE-HOUR SERVICE AT FIRST LUTHERAN

A three-hour service of devotion will be held in First Lutheran church from twelve until three on Good Friday. The impressive Lutheran liturgy for the occasion will be used and meditations on the Seven Words From the Cross will be preached by Pastor Nore Gustafson of St. Paul's and Pastor Edward Rogers of First church. Worshipers may enter and leave the church during the singing of any of the numerous hymns.

It is also announced the litany will be read Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

MEETING POSTPONED

A meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the North Warren Presbyterian Church, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until March 29. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Thayer in North Warren.

Clarendon Plans Sunrise Service

The annual community sunrise service for Clarendon this year will begin at 7 a. m. in the Evangelical United Brethren church, the theme to be "Sunrise With Jesus".

A prelude of piano music will open the service, followed by the youth choir processional. Alvin A. Albaugh, Warren, will sing "The Holy City" and direct the mixed choir of 17 voices in singing "Christ Arose", "The Awakening Chorus" and "He Lives". Short readings by choir members will be interspersed with the music. A challenging Easter message will be brought by Rev. John Andree, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Warren.

The entire community and all interested friends are invited to begin their Easter by attending this inspiring service.

Easter Program at St. Paul's Sunday

At 4:30 p. m. Sunday, St. Paul's Lutheran church school will present its Easter program, opening with a group of recitations and songs by the beginners' and primary departments.

Junior, Intermediate and Senior departments will present the pageant, "Thou Art the Christ", with the following taking part: Narrators, Edward Erickson and Richard Lundehi; Annas, Donald Hendrickson; Caiphas, Billy Osterman; Claudia, Cynthia Lawson; Pirate, Allen Rydgren; first soldier, Richard Anderson; second soldier, Bobby Carlson; Mary, Sandra Berglund; first guard, Rudolph Johnson; second guard, Lester Nero; Mary Magdalene, Gloria Peterson; Salome, Betsy Johnson; first man, Tommy Casey; second man, Dick Terry; first girl, Eleanor Wester; second girl, Marjorie Smith; third girl, Marilyn Leave.

A chorus will be comprised of pupils from classes of Mrs. Viola Seaquist, Mrs. Raymond Danielson, Mrs. Robert Colter, and Mrs. Melbourne Karlson. W. Rudolph Johnson will read the scripture and Lester Nero will offer the prayer.

A cordial welcome is extended to all to attend this service.

Choral Eucharist At Trinity Church

The sunrise Choral Eucharist at 6:30 will mark the beginning of the Easter season celebration at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church. The choir, directed by Ethel McCray and with Jean Robertson as organist, will sing at both the 6:30 and 11:00 services.

Program numbers for the early service are: Organ—Adagio for Strings by Barber, and Toccata on "O Filii et Filiae" by Farnham; Easter Antiphon, Dresden; Introit—Christ Our Passover, Macfarlane; Kyrie Eleison, Parker; of fertility anthem—When the Dawn Was Breaking, Polish folk song arranged by Dickinson; Sursum Corda, Parker; Sanctus and Benedictus qui Venit from St. Cecilia's Mass; Gounod; Agnus Dei, Parker; Gloria in Excelsis, Tours; organ postlude—Easter Day, Loret. The 11 o'clock service will vary with the above, in that the opening organ selection will be the Toccata from Widor's Symphony No. 5; the sermon hymn will be "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today"; of fertility anthem, "Easter Morn" by Fehrmann organ postlude, "Fantasia d'Orgue", Bedell.

The children's service will be at 5 p. m., at which time all children will take part in the annual mitebox presentation and parents and friends are cordially invited. The picture, "Journey Into Faith", will be shown, while, for the younger children, a colored movie, "Festival of Spring", will be shown in the classroom.

BETA SIGMA PHI PLANS CARD PARTY

Epsilon Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, holding its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Myers, made plans for a benefit card party to be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, March 28, at the Youth Canteen. The public is invited and tickets may be obtained at the door or from sorority members.

Following the business session, Mrs. E. N. Jacobson and Miss Kathryn Gafner discussed their recent visits to Florida. Concluding, refreshments were served by the hostess.

FOR BRIDE-ELECT

A delightful shower party was given at the James E. Miller home, Fifth avenue, when Mrs. Grace Cramer and Mrs. Miller honored Catherine O'Connor, Pittsburgh, who will become the bride of Jack Miller April 14.

Appointments were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day, with shamrock ice cream and green-iced cakes. Canasta and bingo were enjoyed and the bride-elect was remembered with many nice gifts.

VALLEY GRANGE

Members are reminded the regular meeting of Chancellors Valley Grange No. 846 will be held in the Grange hall Friday evening. In addition, Master Earl Strom extends his thanks and appreciation to all who attended the social last Saturday and helped in any way to make it a great success.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Aldon Skinner, EM 3/c, is home from the naval base at Portsmouth, Va., to spend a 20-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Skinner, Lander, and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. M. L. Pardee and two children are here from Cleveland to visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Erickson, Franklin street. Dr. Pardee will join them Saturday and they will return home Sunday.

Pvt. Galen A. Rapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rapp, Lander, who left with the February 13 inductee group, has been assigned to the 6th Armored Division at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and would like friends to write him there. His address: Pvt. Galen A. Rapp, US-52077153, Battery C, 253rd AFA Battalion, CCR, 6th Armored Division.

Karl Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Peterson, North Irvine street, is spending Easter vacation at home from Penn State.

Home from Grove City for Easter recess is Tom Flohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle G. Flohr, 504 Conewango avenue.

Pfc. Glenn R. Jordan has returned to Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Texas, after spending a six-day leave with his wife, Dorothy, and son, Frankie, 1106 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

LACY PTA HAS SYMPOSIUM-PROGRAM

Mrs. Norman Johnson conducted the regular meeting of Lacy PTA Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Fred Baldensperger, Mrs. Del Henry and Miss Elsie Nelson were named as a nominating committee. March 31 was set as the date for the rag and paper pickup to be conducted by Girl Scout Troop 4, and it was decided to sell tee shirts with an emblem and the school name as a special money-making project. A contest will be conducted in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades for originating the best emblem.

The president gave a fine report on the unit-sponsored Boy Scout troop, and it was planned to send new officers and the acting president to the District convention at Franklin, April 25. Room awards went to Miss Peterson for first and Miss Nelson for second.

Mrs. Robert Larson, program chairman, introduced the following for the symposium on "Every Child Has Four Sets of Parents": Miss Alice Anderson, moderator; Mrs. Basil White, the parent; Miss Masters, the playmate; Nat Drake, the community; Gerald Newton, the school.

Following the program refreshments were served from a table prettily decorated in an Easter motif. For the centerpiece, Mrs. W. D. McElwain had arranged Easter eggs she had made and marked with names of the teachers. Mrs. John Trauffer was chairman for refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Carl Jones, Mrs. Philip Mong, Mrs. Carl Berglund, Mrs. John Blyth, Mrs. McElwain, Mrs. Eugene McNally, Mrs. F. O. Ritchie.

SILENT COMMUNION

Grace Methodist church members are reminded of their candlelight silent communion service to be held from seven until nine o'clock this evening, when the offering will go for world relief, with emphasis on Korean needs.

CHANGE IN SERVICE

The Easter Sunday service at the Presbyterian church will be held at 7 a. m. this year, instead of the customary 2:30 p. m., with Dr. William J. Prout, Tidioute, as the minister.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, North Warren, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Raymond Ristau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ristau, 6 Averill street, Warren.

HALF PLEASANT

In one month's test a scientific team found 50 per cent of the time passed pleasantly, 28 per cent indifferently, and 22 per cent unpleasantly, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Check Old House Carefully Before Buying

BY MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Seed catalogues, Easter hats and a foolish early crocus struggling up through the end-of-winter mud stir up the spring home-hunting urge among householders who aren't living where they'd like to be.

If you're one of them (and there seem to be millions) put away your tools. This Mr. Fix exercise requires only the ability to ask questions, use your eyes and make realistic decisions. Stick a flashlight, an ice pick and a note book and pencil in your pocket and off we go.

We'll skip lightly over the preliminary skirmishes and assume at this point you've found a house—in this instance, not a new one—that interests you enough to pry into it further.

Start down cellar. Look for signs of leaks, dampness or previous floods. Peer into crawl-spaces with your flashlight and see

Warren Electric Co.
Refrigerator Sales & Service
318 Penna. Ave., E. Phone 617

The artist may have exaggerated a bit, but these sketches illustrate good points to check on in buying a house.

If there's any evidence of rot or rodents. Poke the ice pick into the main timbers to make sure they haven't been hollowed out by dry rot, carpenter ants, or termites.

In more elderly houses, look carefully at the wiring that leads upstairs; a lot of homes are still standing, in defiance of today's electrical safety standards, with old-fashioned wiring not enclosed in protective cable.

When you get upstairs, jump up and down on the floor in the middle of each room. The agent (or prospective seller) may look a little bemused. But who wants to live in a house that isn't solid? It isn't if the floors give easily when you jump and the house shakes all over. Then borrow a broomstick, or something similar, and tap the ceiling plaster to make sure that's solid, too.

Try the plumbing. If the water doesn't run with normal gusto, the pipes may be too small or clogged up with mineral deposits. If the water runs red or rusty, they're corroded, and you'll need new piping. Stains on ceilings or walls also may be evidence of plumbing trouble.

Try out your flashlight and ice pick again in the attic. Snoop around the chimney while you're up there for signs of soot that would indicate smoke leaks, or stains that would indicate that the flashing, where the chimney goes through the roof, is leaking. With the lights out, look hard at the roof for daylight which would indicate a leaky roof. While you're doing all this, your wife ought to be figuring out whether the rooms are big enough for your furniture; whether the kitchen is what she wants; whether the closets are sufficiently large and plentiful.

Without signing anything, go back home and compare notes. If it's still what you really want, and you're willing to take on the job of fixing all the things you found wrong, you're ready for the outside check-up. That's not just gutters, windows, screens, paint and physical items.

Check the neighbors and the neighborhood. See what you get in the way of trash collection, snow removal, and so on with your taxes. See what other people think of the reputation of the man who built the house in the first place. If you have doubts, get a builder or architect you know to make a further inspection. Then find out what the bank's experts think; how they feel about giving you a mortgage ought to take care of the final decision.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—The gauge on my oil tank doesn't always agree with what the oilman says he say put into the tank. How can I tell if the gauge is right?—J. A.

A—The gauges on home oil tanks usually are only approximate. Meters on tank trucks are tested and sealed by town or county authorities and must be accurate. You can measure the depth of oil with a yardstick or weighted string and compare the figure with a chart for various size tanks, which your oilman will furnish. Or you can have a whistle valve installed at the fill pipe. This will allow the delivery man to fill your tank without going in-side to check the contents.

Monthly Tureen Dinner Is Held By Barnes Workers

Barnes, March 20—The Friday evening tureen dinner, held each month by the workers and the official board members of the Methodist Church preceded the service, Friday evening. There were about twenty in attendance. The revival services ended Friday evening, having lasted two weeks with good attendance. Four were tendered the sacrament of baptism at the Sunday morning service and one was taken in as a probationary member.

The W.S.C.S. met in the church Thursday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Grace Miller, Mrs. Esther Burns presided. Mrs. C. E. Conquer had the devotionals and lesson for the afternoon. The nominating committee reported and it was decided to have a soup luncheon in the church basement, Wednesday, March 28th. Those who wish to buy soup should place their orders and bring their own containers.

Mrs. Millard Smedley of Saybrook was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen Sr. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Curtin and daughter, Pamela, motored up from Wilkesburg, Saturday. Mr. Curtin returned home Sunday evening, but Mrs. Curtin will spend the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bramer in Sheffield and Pamela with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Curtin, here in Barnes.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rounds were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rounds of Reynoldsville, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nasman, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nasman, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Palmquist, Miss Ann Lucia of Warren and Jack McAvoy of Sheffield.

Herman Gilson was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hoyer and Mrs. W. D. Barnes, Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Silvis and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silvis Jr., of Corry visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silvis Sr. over the week end.

George Conquer has been confined to his home for the past several days suffering from flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Duck in Kane, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lyle are accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lyle of Sheffield to Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday, from where they will accompany their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis on a vacation trip to Clearwater, Florida.

Sunrise Services Being Planned By Many Communities

Harrisburg—Six Easter sunrise services to be held outdoors in Pennsylvania communities, in addition to the services listed in two previous articles, are announced by the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

One of the biggest Keystone State services will be at Keyburn Plaza, across Market street from City Hall in Philadelphia. Dr. Ross H. Stover, pastor of Messiah Lutheran church, will deliver the Easter message.

Gramplan Heights, overlooking Williamsport, will be the setting for an outdoor service at 8 a. m., under the direction of the Williamsport Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Clyde E. Rickabaugh, pastor of Montoursville and Betzel Presbyterian church, will be principal speaker. Trumpeters and combined city choirs will provide Easter music. There are parking facilities for about 200 cars.

Wilkesburg Kiwanis Club is sponsoring an outdoor service at Graham Athletic Field, Wilkesburg, at 7 a. m.

The picnic area at Cook Forest State Park will be the setting for an outdoor service at 7 a. m., under the sponsorship of the Tri-County Men's Club in cooperation with Department of Forests and Waters, Clarion. Dr. Paul G. Chandler, president of Clarion State Teachers College, will be the principal speaker.

Music will be furnished by the Jubilee Singers of Titusville. There are seating provisions for 400 visitors and space to accommodate about 1,000 cars. This service is considered the only service to be held in a national or state forest park in eastern United States this year.

Young People's Societies and the Sabbath School Association of Tarentum are cooperating in sponsorship of an outdoor service at 7:30 a. m. at Pitcairn Heights Hill, Tarentum Reservoir, and Brackenridge Heights.

Principal speakers will be local ministers.

Outdoor services as previously announced will also be held in Harrisburg, Hershey, West Scranton, Elizabeth, Erie, Coatesville, Parkersburg, Punxsutawney, York, Kennet Square, Beaver Falls and Rochester, according to information received by the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau, as a result of questionnaires mailed by the bureau last month to Keystone State Chamber of Commerce.

HADACOL Relieves the Cause of Nervousness and Weakness When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron.

Seems like more and more folks are finding out every day that they have to keep themselves in tip-top condition to really stay on the ball as far as doing a good job is concerned. Mr. John L. Napier, Route 1, Moselle, Mississippi, certainly found out that aches and pains, weakness and nervousness were interfering with his work as a bricklayer and carpenter.

But Mr. Napier heard how HADACOL was helping folks with such conditions that may have been due to deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin.

Here are his own words: "Before taking HADACOL, I was suffering with aches and pains for awhile. Then, came the time when I was weak and nervous. I am a carpenter and bricklayer. I also run a farm. I kept feeling bad and getting worse. Then I heard about HADACOL and immediately began taking it. After taking only one bottle, when I retired at 9 P.M. I would fall asleep immediately."

Freight Traffic On Pennsy During 1950 Shows An Increase

Freight traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad was in greater volume in 1950 than in 1949, but it was not until the last half of the year that freight business expanded toward what might be termed a national defense level. There was continued interference from labor difficulties and work stoppages during the year, so that, with a relatively low traffic volume in the earlier months and greatly increased expenditures for equipment maintenance in the later months, earnings from operations for 1950 were disappointing.

In the Railroad's 104th Annual Report made public today, President Walter S. Franklin said, however, that "definite progress has been made toward producing better operating results. Assuming prompt and reasonable action by the regulating authorities approving the necessary increases in rates to meet the increased cost of materials and supplies and the increases in wages, the earnings of your company should improve."

Heavy expenditures must continue for some time, he said, for new and rehabilitated freight and passenger equipment to meet defense and general business needs.

Stressing the urgency for further freight rate increases now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Mr. Franklin warned that "earnings for 1951 will depend largely upon the extent to which increases are permitted and will be adversely affected by the lag between increased costs and the approval of increased rates by the regulatory authorities."

Earnings from operations in 1950 were augmented, he said, by other income. In addition to income from investments, there were two non-recurring items—an adjustment of $17,500,000 through the income account, of tax reserves applicable to prior years, and the inclusion of additional mail revenue of $19,570,000 covering retro-active payments by the government for mail-carrying services rendered from February 19, 1947 through 1950.

Local Men Attend Clarion Conference

Warren county men attending the annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Artificial Breeding Cooperative, held at Clarion yesterday, included O. C. Tritt, county farm agent; Harry Ludwick, of Lander, county director; R. Hammar, Russell, Walter Carlson, Miller Hill; Jay Cowles, Lander; Ernest and Ellis Martin, Youngsville; and Hubert Johnson, of Lottsville.

Sessions occupied the entire day with the morning meeting at the co-op center. Lunch was served at the Clarion Glass Company clubhouse and the afternoon sessions took place there.

In addition to reports by the manager and chairmen of the various sires committees, three speakers were heard. They were Joe Taylor, dairy specialist of State College; Dr. Felipe, of State College, who explained the research program; and Homer Martz, agricultural program director of KDKA in Pittsburgh.

At the election, all present officers were continued in their capacities. President is Clyde Moore, Butler county; vice president is Paul Gruber, Clarion county; secretary is Lou Williams, Fayette county; executive committee members include Clyde Houck, Indiana county, and Samuel Baker, Blair county.

a tentative schedule of events.

On Sunday evening, July 1, a community vesper service is planned in conjunction with the dedication of the large memorial boulder to be erected on War Memorial Field.

For Monday a new event is being planned which will be called the Kids Coaster Classics. This will be similar to the famous "soap box derbies" and the community's young boys will be invited to build their own racers to take part in the event. Full details will be announced later.

The Tuesday night attraction will be possibly some outstanding wrestling matches for which negotiations are now going on. July 4, Wednesday, the committee is planning on another parade, a drum corps competition if possible, a variety show and fireworks in the evening.

President Kenneth Carlson announced the nominating committee which will present a slate of proposed directors at the next Jaycee meeting. Harold Curtis is chairman and the following are members of the committee: Bob Johnson, Tom Gatehouse, Bob Porter, Jack Barr, Dick Munch, Dr. Lee Berger, and George Templeton.

ing and writing the English language in the current 26-letter alphabet.

2. How much time could be saved by substituting Shaw's alphabet, in which each of 40 symbols would stand for a sound.

3. "The loss of income in British and American currency" from using the old alphabet instead of Shaw's proposed one.

Shaw also asked that a photometric expert be hired to translate his play "Androcles and the Lion" into the new alphabet, "assuming the pronunciation to resemble that recorded of his majesty our late King George V and sometimes described as northern English."

He asked that copies be made of the play in his alphabet and in the standard 26-letter alphabet, with the versions side by side, page for page. These copies were to be presented "to public libraries in the British Isles, British Commonwealth, American States north and south and to National Libraries everywhere in that order."

SANTO CASTAGNINO

A high funeral mass in memory of Santo Castagnino, 1700 Pennsylvania avenue, west, will be sung in St. Joseph's church at nine o'clock Monday morning.

Following his death at his home Tuesday morning, removal was made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home, where friends are being received at the regular calling hours and where the parish rosary will be recited at 8:45 p. m. Friday. The body will be taken to St. Joseph's church at two o'clock Saturday afternoon for blessing, with interment following immediately in St. Joseph's cemetery.

WALTER RAYMOND SMITH

Services were held at the Templeton Funeral Home at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday for Walter Raymond Smith, Old Clarendon, who died early Sunday morning. Rev. Sprigg Harwood, pastor of Clarendon Methodist church, officiated and the following served as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery: George Schreckengost, Henry Warren, Bruce Burns, Joe Thomas, Fred Raiser and Ken Bailey.

Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and son, Jay, Warren, O.; Harry Bellaire, McDonald, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dixon, Burton, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vogt, Erie; Harold Shortz, Sr., Harold Shortz, Jr., Miss Betty Lou Shortz, Warren, O.; Mrs. Eleanor Ingie, Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. WILLIAM TRUSHEL

Mae Trushel, wife of William Trushel, 3 Franklin street, died at 8:10 a. m. today after a lingering illness. She was born in Youngstown, O., on October 9, 1868, but had been a resident of this community practically all her life.

Besides her husband, she leaves the following children: Mrs. Mildred Smith, Clarendon; Mrs. Eleanor Engels, Buffalo, N. Y.; Roy Dickson, Cleveland, O., and Floyd Dickson, Erie; also two step-children, Mrs. Ada Phillips and Lloyd Trushel, Warren; 12 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the Peterson Funeral Home, from where arrangements for services will be announced later.

HENRY A. LAWSON

Henry August Lawson, 73, of 404 Weeks Street, Jamestown, died at 9 a. m. Tuesday, March 20, 1951, at the Newton Memorial Hospital, Cassadaga, where he had been a patient for the past eight weeks. He was born March 28, 1877, in Ludlow, Pa., the son of Otto and Christine Lawson.

Mr. Lawson was a finisher at the Jamestown Metal Corporation for 18 years until his retirement in 1947. His wife, Anna Lawson, died in July, 1950. He was a member of the Lutheran Immanuel Church of Jamestown, the Odd Fellows and Order of Vasa, SF of A., of Ludlow. He came to Jamestown in 1928.

He is survived by a son, August S. Lawson, of Jamestown; two daughters, Mrs. Sven Hammersten of Jamestown, Mrs. Ellsworth Lyle, of Warren; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild; three sisters, Mrs. Axel Hultman, of Warren, Mrs. Augusta Larson and Miss Nora Lawson, both of Jamestown.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday from the Henderson Lincoln Chapel in Jamestown with the Rev. Dr. Felix V. Hanson officiating. Burial will be in Lake View Cemetery.

MRS. EDITH M. DALEY

Mrs. Edith M. Daley, age 77, widow of the late Edwin Daley, died Wednesday afternoon at her home in Erie.

Born in New Richmond, Crawford county, she spent most of her early life in Grand Valley and has lived in Erie for the past 33 years.

She is survived by a son, Fay Daley, and a grandson, Edwin W. Daley, both of Erie.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Edgar and Nelson Funeral Home, Erie, where friends may call or attend the services. Rev. E. M. Gearhart of Luther Memorial church will officiate and interment will follow in Erie cemetery.

LAURA ANN BUCKLIN

Miss Laura Ann Bucklin, born in Titusville on December 15, 1859, and a former resident of Tidouete, died at 12:10 p. m. today at the Watson Memorial Home, following an illness of several months. Miss Bucklin at one time operated a store in Tidouete and later a store located at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and South street. She was one of the original guests at the Watson Home, entering there in July, 1935.

Surviving are four nieces, Mrs. H. P. Sheldon, Mrs. Horace Bleakney, and Miss Grace Bucklin, Jamestown, N. Y.; Miss Hazel V. Bucklin, Sharon; one nephew, J. B. Bucklin, Jr., Syracuse, N. Y.; also one cousin, Marshall Bucklin, North Warren.

Removal has been made to the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the regular calling hours starting at 2 p. m. Friday. Services in her memory will be held there, also, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, conducted by Dr. Robert S. Steen, pastor of First Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in the Tidouete cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, for the sympathy extended, for the beautiful flowers and use of cars during our recent bereavement.

Jones has been production manager of Roll Facilities for Blaw Knox Company at Pittsburgh. Before going with Blaw Knox he was with Carnegie Illinois Steel Corporation at Pittsburgh and the Hamilton (Ohio) Foundry and Machine Company.

CHURCHON IS EIGHT MILES SOUTH OF PARALLEL 38

Allied tanks and infantrymen occupied Chunchon Wednesday afternoon without a fight.

AP Correspondent Leif Erickson reported from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters that Allied forces in Chunchon "appeared in position today (Thursday) to strike across the 38th parallel any time they choose to move after the withdrawing Reds across the political boundary."

East of Chunchon South Korean troops finished wiping out 4,400 Reds of the Red Korean 10th Division which had slipped behind Allied lines in January.

Only about 300 remained of that unit, which had been hacked to pieces by U. S. planes and artillery.

Eighth Army headquarters reported 1,500 Reds killed or wounded in ground action Wednesday.

This brought to about 179,000 the total Communist casualties

NEW TRIAL REFUSED

Pittsburgh, March 22—(P)—Ralph Brink, convicted of forgery and breaking jail in Crawford county, has been refused his plea for a writ of habeas corpus to give him a new trial.

Federal District Court Judge Wallace S. Gourley, in handing down his decision yesterday, declared Brink "has not exhausted his state remedies and is not entitled to relief upon the merits of his petition."

At Brink's hearing several weeks ago he was given the opportunity to cross examine witnesses, including former Judge O. C. Kent and President Judge Herbert Mook.

Brink now is in Western Penitentiary serving eight and one-half to 17 years following a second conviction in a retrial ordered by the State Supreme Court. While awaiting sentence at Meadville he broke out of jail but was captured in Ohio.

EXTEND DEADLINE ON FILING PRICE CHARTS

Washington, March 22—(P)—The Office of Price Stabilization has extended its deadline to April 30 for more than 200,000 big and little retailers to file pricing charts with the government.

General ceiling price regulation 7 issued late in February required retailers to make up charts covering sales of goods brought under margin-type price control.

OPS said the task of listing the thousands of articles was so big retailers could not meet the previous March 29 deadline. Many complaints had been received that not enough time was allowed.

Light Snow Chases Thoughts of Spring

By The Associated Press

Spring came to Pennsylvania yesterday but frigid winter made a comeback today, bringing snow, icy roads and sub-freezing temperatures.

"It looks like spring left in a big hurry," commented Henry Adams, Philadelphia's official weather forecaster.

Light snow blanketed the Keystone state early today. Five inches fell in Erie, and throughout western Pennsylvania the fall averaged between two and three inches. In the east it was lighter—only a half inch in Philadelphia suburbs.

The weatherman said a cold wave that had hovered over the west earlier this week "broke through with a rush," causing as much as a 35-degree drop in temperature all across the state.

Curwensville, officially, was the state's icebox with a recorded overnight low of 12 degrees. It was 15 at Blairsville, 16 at Brookville, 14 at Phillipsburg, 19 at Altoona, 20 at Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Erie, 24 at Harrisburg and 27 at Philadelphia.

Temperatures rose slowly this morning but generally remained below freezing across the state. It will drop to 25 degrees—even lower—tonight but tomorrow will be much warmer.

The snow melted on highways, then froze. Highway cinders, caught unawares, were late in scattering cinders and many trucks and automobiles were stalled at bottoms of hills.

In one area near Erie last night, slippery road conditions caused a four-hour traffic tieup.

AMERICAN TANK-LED PATROL SHOTS WAY OUT OF RED AMBUSH

(From Page One)

Field dispatches said some 60,000 Communist troops manned western defense positions in depth for 15 miles south of the border. These included two divisions of the Chinese Third Field Army, idle since the Hungnam action in December.

An Allied tank patrol ran into a hot fight Wednesday on the approaches to Uijongbu, north of Seoul.

The thrust north of Chunchon was the closest announced Allied approach in force to the Red Korean border during the current drive.

Patrols may have crossed the boundary.

A delayed dispatch from AP Correspondent William C. Barnard said the armored column rolled north late Wednesday from Red abandoned Chunchon. It pulled back to bivouac positions for the night.

Chunchon is eight miles south of parallel 38.

Allied tanks and infantrymen occupied Chunchon Wednesday afternoon without a fight.

AP Correspondent Leif Erickson reported from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters that Allied forces in Chunchon "appeared in position today (Thursday) to strike across the 38th parallel any time they choose to move after the withdrawing Reds across the political boundary."

FORMER BETTING COMMISSIONER SEEKS TO ERASE

pected to be Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, reputed moneyhandler for Chicago's Capone mob.

The committee has long sought to question Guzik and issued an arrest warrant for him last month. Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Joseph Duke told reporters he had arranged for Guzik "to be delivered" to the committee for today's hearings.

Guzik got his nickname of "Greasy Thumb" from his long-time job as business manager or treasurer of the late Scarface Al Capone's underworld operations—a job in which he handled the money.

An ex-convict, he was on the original list of public enemies compiled by Chicago's crime commission in 1930 and was named in a recent report of the senate crime committee as a leader of the Capone syndicate.

Before Duke disclosed that he had arranged for Guzik to be on tap, the crime probes announced that Carroll had been granted his request for an opportunity to clear himself of possible contempt.

Carroll refused to testify at a committee hearing in St. Louis on Feb. 24 unless television cameras were shut off. He said the televising of his appearance invaded his constitutional right of privacy.

The crime committee, headed by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.), voted on its return here to ask the senate to cite Carroll for contempt of congress. Kefauver said it would be a test case of whether a witness can refuse to testify because a congressional hearing is being televised.

THE MARKETS

New York, March 22—(P)—Heavy trading in air lines on the upside today pulled the entire stock market higher.

Oil issues joined in the advance almost immediately, and together the two groups held the lion's share of attention.

Air lines hit the tape in blocks up to 5,000 shares at the start. Gains amounted to as much as 75 cents a share.

Oils were less exuberant, but they chalked up gains extended to as much as $2 a share. Mission corp. added that amount at one time.

Air lines have come under favorable analysis in the past few days with predictions of excellent earnings possibilities for 1951 in either a war or peace economy.

Oils got additional consideration because of reported plans by the office of price stabilization to ease up on controls at all levels in retailing, refining and producing.

The bond market was quiet with prices about unchanged. U. S. governments opened steady in the over the counter market.

APPROVE MERGER OF NATURAL GAS FIRMS

Harrisburg, March 22—(P)—The Public Utility Commission today approved merger of five natural gas companies serving 74,000 consumers in 16 western Pennsylvania counties.

The commission said the merger was approved to make economies by streamlining present operations.

The five utilities are subsidiaries of the Natural Fuel Gas Co., Newark, N. J.

The new corporation will be known as the United Natural Gas Co., with offices in Oil City.

The present utilities are: United Natural Gas Co., Ridgeway Natural Gas Co., St. Marys Natural Gas Co., Smethport Natural Gas Co. and Mercer County Natural Gas Co., all with offices in Oil City.

The utilities furnish service in Venango, Crawford, Warren, Forest, Mercer, Clarion, McKean, Potter, Elk, Jefferson, Armstrong, Butler, Greene, Washington and Allegheny counties.

SUNRISE SERVICE IS PLANNED BY LODGE

Traditionally an event of the Knights Templar calendar, the annual sunrise service will again be held Easter Sunday by officers and members of Warren Commandery No. 63.

Scheduled at 6:30 a. m. in the Masonic Temple, Liberty street, the service will open with the invocation by the Rev. Milton G. Perry and special music by Mrs. Florence Stevens and Miss Norma Haight.

The address will be delivered by Dr. Robert S. Steen, pastor of First Presbyterian church, and benediction will be pronounced by M. F. Buzard.

Members of all Masonic bodies and their ladies are cordially invited by the Commandery to share in this annual Eastern morning event.

LOBLAWS Easter EXTRAS

The FINEST Selection of HAMs in Town

(PLEASE READ CAREFULLY)

Loblaws has your favorite brands, and your favorite sizes too. This year we are featuring both medium and small hams, so that you can buy just the right ham for your family. These medium size hams are lower in price than the small hams (12 lbs. and less), however, even our medium hams are tender and tasty, as we avoid the large heavy coarse eating sizes that weigh eighteen pounds and over. You can buy your Easter ham at Loblaws and know that you are getting the best value in town.

SWIFT'S PREMIUM

Fully Cooked HAMs

OVER 12 AND UP TO 16 POUNDS

To bake an Easter ham you'll parade to your table proudly—start with a Swift Premium Fancy Cooked Ham. Each one is a prize—hand picked, sugar cured, and tenderized in fragrant hickory and hardwood smoke. These hams do not need long baking. Glaze with pineapple syrup, and heat through. To garnish, shell hard boiled eggs, dip in food coloring, and place around edge of platter.

Bigger Food Savings

It's an "EXTRA" every time a Loblaws Everyday Low Price is further reduced to bring you an additional saving. And believe us when we say we like to bring you "EXTRAS" in every department each week. We can "show" about EVERYDAY LOW PRICES because we have them, galore! But for ADDITIONAL SAVINGS FOR YOU, we want you and everyone else to know about our "EXTRAS," too! So again we say, READ OUR ADS REGULARLY and carefully. Every "EXTRA" brings you substantial savings on the very best of foods.

EGGS FOR EASTER

This year again we bring you the finest value in town on large fresh white eggs for coloring, as well as large fresh mixed eggs for general use. You can depend on Loblaws for all your Easter egg needs.

Genuine Scotch KIPPERS

The rich, full flavor of Scottish Kippers is one of nature's mysteries. Herring abound in other parts of the world, but none have the succulent and distinctive taste of the Scotch variety from off the Shetland Islands. Kipped herring is partly cooked in the smoking process and needs very little additional cooking. Scotch kippers are quick frozen to preserve their North Sea Tang. Defrost completely before using.

Man Murdered In Arizona Known to Families in Area

Leonard Rexford Fenton, 40, murdered near Yuma, Arizona, recently, was a cousin of Mrs. Eva Young of Hydetown. He was also a relative of Mrs. Mabel McKnight of Hydetown.

Fenton, former Corry resident, had visited the Hydetown community last fall and spent a few days at the Young home.

Sixteen-year-old Peter Donald Saunders of Corona, Long Island, N. Y., is accused of shooting Fenton to death. The youth admitted killing the railroad employe and robbing him to buy cowboy clothes with part of the loot, authorities said.

He will be arraigned on the murder charge today, following appearance before a coroner's jury.

Sheriff Jim Washum said Saunders made a verbal confession in the Feb. 14 shooting, saying he forged travelers checks found on his victim to buy $108 worth of western gear to get a job as a ranch hand. The youth quit the job because he said it didn't require horseback riding.

"It still doesn't seem I killed a man," Saunders said.

Fenton left Corry while a high school student, served in the Navy and then took the railroad job in Los Angeles. He was shot twice in the back of the head with a .22 rifle and his body hidden in weeds on the bank of a drainage canal near Yuma, where he had been fishing. The body was found last Thursday.

Fenton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fenton, live in Warren, O., and arrangements are being made to move the body to that city for burial.

Price Order For Eating Place Now Available in Erie

The new price stabilization order affecting public eating places has been received by the Erie OPS, a spokesman said. All local restaurant proprietors were advised to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the regulation immediately.

The regulation makes it mandatory for restaurants to reduce prices when food costs decline and permits them to raise prices only when actual food costs increase to them. Restauranters are required to provide the public with the same value of food per dollar of sales as they did prior to July 1, 1950. This will result in a roll-back for restauranters who increased their margins after July 1, 1950.

All proprietors of public eating establishments are required to file a statement with the Erie OPS before April 30, 1951. Details of this statement may be found in the regulation which has been designated as Ceiling Price Regulation 11. Copies are available at local Chamber of Commerce offices or other designated distribution points as well as the Erie OPS, 1005 State Street, Erie.

V. A. Will Start Issuing Dividend Checks on April 2d

Washington—(AP)—The Veterans Administration says it will start issuing vouchers April 2 for payment of a $685,000,000 life insurance special dividend to World War II veterans.

The agency said there may be a few days delay between issuance of the vouchers and the time that the Treasury Department starts sending out the checks.

At any rate, it was said, checks will start rolling out in considerable volume by mid-April. The average payment figures out at about $85.

The initial checks will be on policies with a January anniversary date.

Other dividend checks to the 8,000,000 World War II policy holders will go out within about two months of their anniversary dates. VA said it takes about that much time to calculate them.

TIME TRAP By ROG PHILLIPS

Chapter 2

RAY BRADLEY slept restlessly. It was a not July night. He and Joe Ashford had looked at three different office spaces and half decided on one on the fringe of the factory district, then spent the time after their late dinner discussing plans for rebuilding the time circuit that had been destroyed by the mysterious explosion.

After going to bed Ray had lain there puzzling over that explosion, and how someone in the future could reach across the gap of time and accomplish it.

And with thoughts of the girl of the future in his mind, he finally fell into a deep sleep of exhaustion. Almost at once he heard her voice.

"This is Nelva," her voice formed in his mind. "I've been waiting for you to fall asleep."

"Nelva," Ray said in his mind.

"You must listen to me, man of nineteen fifty," Nelva said. "What is your name?"

"Ray Bradley," Ray answered. "What caused that explosion?"

"There's no time to speak of that, Ray," Nelva said. "Tell me what you know of your time bridge in the telephone circuit. Do you understand how it works?"

"I understand a little, Nelva," Ray said. "Its secret lies in three coils placed mutually at right angles to one another—and a fourth that in some way sets up a four dimensional interlocking of magnetic fields so that a current in the wire generated at some future time alters a current existing in it in my own time."

"I see you understand enough, Ray," Nelva's voice formed. "You must come here to my time. We—I need you."

"But how?" Ray asked. "That circuit is barely able to be affected by almost non-existent currents in your time. I certainly can't cross the interval between my time and yours with it."

"You can," Nelva said firmly. "Those coils are interlocked by magnetic fields—and magnetic fields can be made strong enough to do powerful work. Fastened into a machine to protect you from harm, more powerful coils can draw you out of your own time and send you forward into mine. It's quite safe. Only you must hurry."

"Hurry?" Ray echoed. "But why?"

"I can't talk to you any more right now. I'm risking everything each instant this conversation continues. Varg Thrott can trace my thoughts back to me from you."

He laid Joe on the floor in the time machine.

"Who's Varg Thrott?" Ray asked. Suddenly he was wide awake and sitting up in bed.

There was some terrible threat existing in nineteen ninety-nine, able to reach across the years and destroy in the past—NOW.

He leapt out of bed, feeling that only with action could he shrug off the growing feeling of danger. Pausing at the phone, he called Joe Ashford and told him to meet him at Tony's, their usual eating spot, in half an hour; then he dressed.

He was five minutes ahead of time, but Joe was already there. Swiftly, he told Joe what had taken place during sleep.

"Nelva!" Joe exclaimed. "Hm. Nice name."

AT THE end of the sixth week the time machine was finished. "We'll set the shutoff relay for one minute from now, ship time," Ray said as they stood inside the machine ready for departure. "That may be a day or a million years. We'll have to find out the hard way."

He and Joe looked gravely at each other, then his hand pushed in the switch that sent current through the coils. Instantly they felt a searing pain shoot through them, that seemed to drag at every cell in their bodies. It seemed that it would never end.

Abruptly it was gone as the coils cut out at the end of the minute. Joe twisted the wheel that drew in the locking bars on the hatch cover and pushed it open. The dust on the floor outside was thick and without footprints.

Out on the street things seemed no different than they had last seen them—except that the building they had just left had the appearance of being deserted. Its windows were opaquely grimy.

At the first corner they came to was a coin operated newspaper vending machine that had not been there before.

With Joe at his shoulder, he opened the paper and looked at the top for the date. It was May 19, 1957. Instantly Ray's thoughts were working on the calculations to convert a minute of time travel to the time travelled. This was quickly shattered by a deep groan and the sound of Joe falling to the sidewalk.

Stuffing the newspaper in his hip pocket, he lifted Joe and ran back to the building and laid him on the floor in the time machine.

Seconds later Joe's eyes fluttered open. He lay there, his face expressionless, a dazed look in his eyes. Ray waited. Suddenly—"Let me look at that paper again," Joe said in a completely normal voice.

"Are you all right?" Ray asked anxiously. Joe looked up at him blankly.

"Sure I'm all right," he said. "I fainted."

"Fainted?" Ray asked, unbelieving.

"Yes," Joe confessed matter-of-factly. "All the time I didn't really believe we could do it. Somewhere in the back of my mind I always believed there was a lot of hokum. It wasn't until well, until I saw the date on that newspaper, that I fully realized we had actually travelled in time—or outside of time—to the future."

Ray picked up the newspaper and looked at the date once more. "We've got to figure how far we go," he said thoughtfully.

"We don't want to overshoot 1999. We travelled six years and ten months, approximately, in sixty seconds of time travel. Is that constant?"

"If it's constant," Joe said, "then a little more than six more minutes of time travel will get us there—I mean get us when."

Ray tossed the newspaper in a corner and set the automatic adjustments of the controls.

"I'm setting it for three minutes," he said.

Chapter 3

THE newspaper carried the date, May 19, 1999. The newspaper itself was different than those of earlier years. It was put together like a magazine, pocket size, with slick paper that seemed to be some sort of plastic rather than a wood fiber pulp paper.

There was something peculiar about arriving at that date. The time machine had stopped three different times at that date. Each time Ray had gone back a ways in time and tried again to land in May third. Finally Joe had gotten an idea and silently worked it out.

"Look, Ray," he had said. "Six weeks ago in our lives you were talking to someone in May third, 1999. We seem to be able to land only in May nineteenth—or several years before 1999. Maybe there are only certain moving points in time that you can insert us into with your time machine."

"That must be it," Ray agreed sourly. "That would tie in with Nelva's insistence that we hurry."

Joe chuckled suddenly. "I just thought of something," he explained. "We're like a couple of guys in a new city, looking through the paper to see what the local news is like—and we've never left town—still inside the city limits!"

"That's right!" Ray agreed, surprised. He grinned at Joe.

"Rub it in," Joe said. "But—what do we do now? Too bad you don't know Nelva's address."

"Now that we're here," Ray said, looking at the street and buildings around him, "I find it had to be. Believe that this Varg Thrott business is real. Everything looks too—"

"Too prosaic," Joe said.

Ray kicked at the sidewalk that seemed to be made of something like concrete and plastic mixed together.

"Did you notice?" he asked. "All the buildings in this neighborhood—the buildings that were here in 1950, are torn down and new ones in their place—except the one where the time machine is? I wonder why?"

"Is it important?" Joe asked.

"I don't think so," Ray said slowly. "Just the same, I've got an idea. Let's decide to stay here a couple of weeks or so. Then let's send the time machine back to our own time with the controls set so it will return in two weeks."

"I'll only take eight minutes to get back," Ray commented as he looked the hatch cover from the outside. "Let's stand over near the door and watch what happens when it starts. Maybe we'll find the answer to why this building has been left alone."

Suddenly the time machine seemed to blur. Then it was gone. But now they could see why the building had been left alone. The opposite wall loomed close, as though seen through an invisible magnifying glass. And the entire building had tilted. That opposite wall, instead of being across the expanse of a level floor, seemed at the foot of a steep incline.

Ray turned his head and saw that the wall and the door at his back seemed to lean precariously over them. Joe looked too.

"Let's get out of here," he said hurriedly.

OUTSIDE, the building seemed normal. They studied it in wonder, then stepped back inside. Instantly the wall was leaning over them again.

"You go out and I'll stay here," Ray suggested.

Joe stepped outside. Instantly, to Ray's eyes, he seemed to become a foot taller. He saw the expression on Joe's face.

"Hey! You look shorter!" Joe exclaimed.

"That explains a lot of things," Ray said, stepping through the doorway onto the sidewalk beside Joe. "Imagine anyone even trying to tear the building down with all the space distortion in there. No wonder it was left alone."

"But how can the wall lean inside and not outside?" Joe asked.

"It doesn't," Ray said. "We lean backward when we're inside, and don't realize it. That's what makes the floor seem to tip downward, too. There's a force that draws us toward the place where the time machine was, and we lean back to compensate for it. Since we think we're standing up straight, we judge everything by that."

"Our time machine is out of reach," Ray said. "Let's find a drug store. They'll have a phone book. We can hunt up the address of that phone number. After that we can

Gavin Calls Any Oil Depletion Cut at Present Time Gamble With U. S. Defense

Washington—(AP)—A cut in the oil industry's depletion allowance would be a gamble with national defense, Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) told the House Ways and Means Committee. Gavin's statement was made public by him yesterday.

A depletion allowance is an amount the government permits petroleum producers and others to deduct for income tax purposes. The amount is calculated to represent a proportionate value of underground reserves that have been depleted. The deduction is aimed at encouraging the search for new reserves.

"The Treasury says it hopes to gain from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 from the proposed cut in depletion," said the Oil City congressman.

"I say that is a pitifully insignificant sum for which to gamble our ability to supply the needed oil for defense.

"It would be about one-half of

WARREN BOY PLEDGED
Eugene Dominick Pascuzzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Pascuzzi of 121 North South street, Warren, has been pledged to Mu chapter of Phi Kappa, social fraternity, at the University of Pittsburgh. He is a sophomore in the college.

SEEK YOUNG GIRL
The Titusville chapter of the American Red Cross is seeking to trace Alice Irene Ranck, who is said to have lived here about 20 years ago. Anyone knowing of her present whereabouts is asked to call the local chapter's office.

OIL CITY MAN INDICTED
A Federal Grand Jury in Erie returned a true bill charging William Arden Ohle of Oil City, with stealing 44 cases of anti-freeze from a truck engaged in interstate commerce. The alcohol, taken from a Daniels Freight Co. truck, was valued at $179.52.

SHOW SCHEDULED
Rose Marie and Sam Sloan, song and dance team coming here from the Carousel in Pittsburgh, will present special floor shows Friday and Saturday at the Sons of Italy Club. It also was announced that the club will be closed Friday from noon to 3 p. m. in keeping with the community's Good Friday observance.

TREASURER RESIGNS
In a move that caught Corry City Council by surprise, City Treasurer Irene Mullen on Monday night submitted her resignation to become effective "as soon as my successor qualifies." Appearing at the Council session to present the letter of resignation, Miss Mullen was queried by Councilmen, but declined to give a reason for her decision to leave the post other than she "wants to be free" and "for personal reasons."

WORKMAN DIES
Wayne Skiff of Spartansburg, 56, died Tuesday at 3:45 p. m. in the Corry Hospital. He was stricken while at work with a Highway Department maintenance crew early in the forenoon and was taken to the hospital where he died of a cerebral hemorrhage. Besides his wife, Leah, he leaves one son, Klahr, of Sparta township; two daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Maynard of Spartansburg and Charlotte, at home; one brother, Cyril Skiff of Route 1, Corry; four sisters, Mrs. E. G. Crapser of Meadville, Mrs. Clair Scouter and Mrs. Ralph Clark of Sparta township and Mrs. G. G. Taylor of Corry; and three grandchildren. Friends may call at the Torrey funeral home at Spartansburg any time. Funeral services will be held there at 2 p. m. Friday.

Godson of Hitler Is Now Studying For the Priesthood

Ingolstadt, Germany—(AP)—Adolph Hitler's godson is in a Catholic monastery here, studying for the priesthood.

Had his godfather's thousand-year Reich held together, he might have been headed for quite a different career in the Nazi party elite. He is the son of Martin Bormann, Hitler's trusted lieutenant and second only to the fuhrer himself in the last stages of the war.

Martin Bormann's life ended in a question mark in 1945. He was with Hitler in the fuhrer bunker when Russian troops overran the city.

What happened to Bormann is a mystery. Rumors in the last five years have placed him in South America, Spain, Russia. Nobody knows for sure.

Adolph Martin Bormann, student at the Brothers of the Sacred Heart Seminary, says he doesn't know either.

"I know only what I see in the papers. I don't know if my father is alive or dead."

Young Bormann was baptized in the Protestant faith, with Adolf Hitler as his sponsor.

"After awhile though, father made us all break away from the church, he recalls. "He wanted no Christian religion in his family. It was contrary to Nazi ideas."

Sugar Grove, March 20—Mrs. Mabel Dallas, presided at the March meeting of the Sugar Grove WCTU, at the home of Mrs. Ernest Landin. Nine women were present. The devotional period included scripture reading by Mrs. Theodore Allenson, and prayer by Miss Mary Hamilton, and group singing. Mrs. Dallas reported on a Peace Conference she recently attended the Sugar Grove WCTU, received a certificate of honor, as a fruitful union.

The time of meeting will be changed from 1:30 to 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Harold Mack was assisting hostess and served refreshments with Mrs. Landin.

The next meeting will be April 20th.

The Womens Auxiliary of the Firemen met Monday evening in the social rooms with Mrs. Donald Barrett, presiding.

$19.85 was received from the recent bake sale. Mrs. Julius Eckert and Mrs. Carl Wolcott were appointed as a committee on the redecorating of the remodeled club social rooms. Mrs. Eckert and Mrs. Harmon Hinsdale were appointed refreshment committee for the April meeting.

The meeting closed with a social time and refreshments served by Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herspool, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Kapotz, of Canton, O., who were called here by the death of Earl T. Abbott, returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Matve and sons spent the weekend as guests of their niece Mrs. Edward Gregor and husband at Cleveland Heights,

O., and having been called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Matve's mother Mrs. Mary Kmetz, who is recovering from an attack of flu.

Mrs. Catherine Carr, and Howard Curtis, left Monday morning for Florida, the latter will return soon, but Mrs. Carr will remain two months in Hollywood, Fla., with Miss Genevieve Carry, hoping she may improve from a severe case of arthritis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ek Dahl and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Jr., and daughter Christine were Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. Forney Eakin, at Franklin.

INJURES KNEE
Forest Bainbridge, 31 Brook street, was treated at Warren General Hospital yesterday for lacerations of the right knee, sustained when he fell and struck the edge of the sidewalk at his home. Four sutures were required. He was discharged after treatment.

Five Nuns Arrested For Trying to Save Lives of Children

Hong Kong—(AP)—Five Canadian nuns, held by the Chinese Communists, who charge they caused the death of 2,116 orphans, actually tried to save the abandoned children's lives, a Catholic priest said.

The Communists earlier announced arrest of the nuns at Canton. They said the children had died in the past 18 months at the Canadian Mission of the Immaculate Conception there.

The priest here, who declined use of his name, gave a different version of the story. He said the nuns years ago set up the Canton receiving station for stricken children, abandoned on the streets by the parents. When found, many of the children were dying of hunger or disease.

Police and civilians also took to the nuns many unwanted child-

New Bill Proposes Institute For Care Of Mental Patients

Harrisburg, March 22.—(P)—A bill to establish an institute for mental defectives in Pennsylvania was under study in the House today.

The measure, sponsored by Harry W. Price, Jr., (R-Mifflin) and Frank Cella (R-Phila.), would authorize the state to construct a building large enough to accommodate 600 patients.

It would allow the department of property and supplies to choose the site.

Other new house bills would:

Extend private leases of hunting camps or cabin sites on state lands from 10 to 40 years—Edwin Tompkins (R-Cameron).

Remove the restriction against clubs selling liquor or beer between the hours of 3 a. m. and 7 a. m.—Ellis Ferster (R-Snyder); H. Clayton Beaver (D-Columbia).

Limit registration hours for voters to periods between 10 a. m. and 10 p. m., in all municipalities—R. C. Kent (R-Crawford); Howard Boorse (R-Montgomery).

Amend the liquor law to permit a person to have more than one importing distributor's license—John Mazza (R-Washington).

Ban assessment of real estate taxes on machinery and equipment in fourth to eighth class counties—Wilmer W. Waterhouse (R-Erie).

Require the Department of Public Instruction to provide day care training centers for training mentally handicapped children—Marion E. Markley (R-Lehigh); William A. Scott (R-Carbon).

Require that no change shall take place in local option contests on sale of liquor and beer where a tie vote occurs. Under present law liquor licenses may be granted in case of a tie vote—Ferster and Beaver.

Prohibit the sale of beer and liquor from 2 a. m. to 7 a. m., on weekdays and all day Sunday—Ferster and Beaver.

Authorize deductions from wages of state employees for purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds—Wilbur Hamilton and Delbert Dalrymple (R-Erie).

In the senate, Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D-Allegheny) introduced a senate bill yesterday to establish a nine-man "state-local relationship committee" to study tax structures and report to the next session of the legislature.

"At present we have the greatest hodge-podge of taxing systems in the United States," said Holland. His bill would appropriate $100,000 to conduct the study.

Other new senate bills would:

Require all trains on main tracks to have a flagman as a safety measure—Sen. Lane and Sen. Samuel G. Neff, (D-Lawrence).

Repeal law making it illegal to carry unloaded firearms and unpacked ammunition in vehicles—Sen. James S. Byrne (D-Phila.).

Permit the appointment of additional clerks at elections in districts with more than 1,200 qualified voters—Sen. Tilghman A. Freed (R-Lehigh).

DOG NEEDS HOME

Mrs. Margaret Hagerman, 9 Bradley street, phone 1863-W, has an eight months old, male, German police dog, she will give to anyone who will provide it with a good home. The dog likes children.

IN HAMOT HOSPITAL

Hans Link, Dodge dealer at 8 Water street, is reported getting along satisfactorily after an operation performed Monday in Hamot Hospital in Erie. He will be confined to the hospital for about two weeks.

IS TRANSFERRED

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Yeager have had word from their son, William, Jr., that he has completed his pre-flight training at Pensacola, Fla., air station and was transferred Wednesday to Whiting Field, Milton, Fla., where he will begin basic flight training.

BUS-TRUCK COLLIDE

State police were called to the east end of the Glade bridge at 5:45 a. m. today when a west-bound Greyhound bus and a convey of cars collided. No one was injured, and damage was estimated at $20. The rearview mirror on the left side of the bus was torn off. Officers said that the bus had stopped to allow the convey to leave the bridge, and the convey skidded slightly in rounding the curve at that point.

CASE DISMISSED

Murray Paul, 27, of Jamestown, N. Y., was released from Warren county jail yesterday upon payment of costs and restitution when taken before Justice Tracy M. Greenlund. Paul, who has been in the county jail since February 26 in default of $5,000 bail, was charged by Chief of Police Mike Evan with issuing a bad check for $1450 to a local business establishment in purchase of an automobile. At the time of his arraignment, Paul entered a plea of guilty and waived a hearing, but was unable to furnish sufficient bail for his release.

Agriculture Dep't Reports Decrease In Crops-Livestock

Washington.—(P)—Agriculture department report indicates here that this year's production of vital food and livestock feed crops may fall considerably short of the nation's expanding needs under the defense program.

The outlook was most disturbing in the case of corn—the major raw material for production of meat, dairy and poultry products. These are the foods most in demand and bringing the highest prices at retail stores.

The department said fears of a shortage of labor at harvesting time and a reluctance to plow up lands which have been taken out of cultivation and put into grass in recent years appears to be holding down plans for crop expansion.

In the case of corn, the department had urged plantings of at least 90,000,000 acres, compared with 84,370,000 planted last year. Today's report—based upon farmers' plans as of March 1—showed a prospective acreage of only 85,694,000.

At relatively high average yields per acre, such plantings would produce a corn crop of only 3,050,000,000 bushels. The department has said that at least 3,500,000,000 bushels of this grain will be needed to maintain current levels of meat, dairy and poultry production.

Reserve supplies of corn are dwindling under a rapidly increasing livestock feeding program, and consequently would not be large.

enough to make up the possible deficit in this year's crop.

Prospective plantings exceed the department's guides or goals for these crops: Dry beans and peas each by two per cent, spring wheat by less than one per cent, rice by 1.5 per cent and oats by one per cent.

Falling short of guides were these crops: Corn by five per cent, barley 14, soybeans seven per cent, grain sorghums between five and eight per cent, sweet potatoes nearly 23 per cent, and flaxseed two per cent.

New York Entry In Lead In Official Egg Laying Contest

Harrisburg.—A pen of Rhode Island Reds that had led the Pennsylvania Official Egg Laying Contest for the first four months of the 1950-51 test was forced into third place when reports were compiled for the month of February, according to an announcement by the State Department of Agriculture which sponsors the contest in Harrisburg.

The top pen at the end of February was a Rhode Island Red entry of the Babcock Poultry Farm, Ithaca, New York, which had attained leadership in January. In second place with a pen of single combed white Leghorns, also an entry of the Babcock farm. The Reds that led up to the end of January and now in third place are entered by G. B. Treadwell, Spencer, Mass. The leading Babcock Rhode Island Reds at the end of five months had produced 1,632 eggs and 1,739.65 points on the basis of one point for each two-ounce egg with fractional points added or subtracted for eggs over or under that weight.

The highest producing hen in the entire contest at the end of the fifth month is a Treadwell Rhode Island Red which laid 114 eggs and had 157.85 points. Another hen from the same pen is in second place also with 144 eggs for 155.65 points. The third best hen is a Babcock Rhode Island Red with 141 eggs and 150.70 points, moving up from fourth place during the month.

In all production phases, the current contest is well ahead of the 1949-50 contest. There are 99 pens entered in the Pennsylvania test with 1,251 birds remaining from the 1,287 that started last October. Total production is 114,330 eggs for 11,778.95 points. Egg production is 3,312 ahead of the previous year and points total 1,763.85 more.

Interesting Palm Sunday Services In Church at Ludlow

Ludlow, March 19—Holy Communion was observed at Moriah Church on Palm Sunday with the Preparatory, "The Lord's Table", given by Rev. Hans Pearson. "The Palms" was sung by the choir with Leland Engman as soloist. The folder, flowers on the altar, and a church hymnal were dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Alida Johnson by Ida, Freda, John and Arthur Johnson. Announcement was made that Good Friday Solemn Service will be held at 7:30 P. M. Easter Services will be held at 11 A. M. and the children's Easter program will be given on Sunday at 4 P. M.

The Moriah Missionary Society presented a program at the State Hospital in North Warren on Saturday afternoon with the following appearing on the program: Meditation by Pastor Hans Pearson, three numbers by the Moriah Choir, vocal solo by Leland Engman, Baritone, and Mrs. Emil Nelson, soprano; accordion duet by Mrs. Ed. Wenstran and Mrs. Wm. Hanson, musical reading by Miss Mabel Peterson, and organ and piano duet by Misses Susan Anderson and Delores Johnson, piano solo by Delores Johnson, readings by Ronald Giffert and Wayne Gregg. The group were taken on tour of the hospital. There were thirty in attendance. The Martha, Moriah, and Junior Missionary Societies held their annual American Mission Festival on Wednesday evening at Moriah Church in conjunction with the Lenten Service. It was well attended. The meeting was opened by the Martha vice president, Mrs. Ed. Wenstran, and was followed by Scripture Reading and Prayer given by Pastor Hans Pearson. The Lenten Meditation was given by Pastor Pearson. The Jewish and Negro Missions were stressed with brief book reviews given by Mrs. Charles E. Carlson and Mrs. Lawrence Larson. The choir gave two numbers, and the Junior Missionary group gave a song. Miss Mabel Peterson gave a musical reading accompanied by Robert Johnson. Miss Margaret Ann Swanson was accompanist for the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Mrs. Leroy Johnson, district treasurer, Miss Edith Larson, and Miss Tillie Olson were in attendance on Sunday afternoon at the Augustana Lutheran Warren District Missionary committee meeting which was held at the Bide-A-Wee Inn at Warren with the meeting in charge of Mrs. Carl Lund-

Chances Are 66 to 100 You Will Live To Be 65 Years Old

New York.—American boys entering employment at the age of 18 have 66 chances in 100 of living to the retirement age of 65. For their grandfathers who started work around the turn of the century the chances of attaining age 65 were only 51 in 100.
This is based upon a study by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians of the improvement since 1900 in the chances of survivorship. During the first half of the 20th century the expectation of life at birth in the United States has increased from 49 to 68 years.
The outlook today for years of life is more favorable than is generally realized, with the chances about 58 in 100 that men at age 65 will live at least 10 years longer, the statisticians note.
Likelihood that a man will survive from his 23rd to his 52nd birthday, the usual interval from marriage until the last child leaves the family is about 88 chances in 100, while at the turn of the century the chances were only 74 in 100.
Chances of survival for women are substantially more favorable than for men throughout life, according to the statisticians. At present a woman at age 23, the average age at which the first child is born, has 94 chances in 100 of living to her 49th birthday to witness the marriage of her youngest child; in 1900 the figure was 80 in 100.
"It is particularly fortunate that the mortality among young women is very low," the statisticians comment, "because many of them carry the responsibility of nurturing a young child. Currently about 1 in every two couple has a child within two years of marriage."

The results of the survivorship study are seen by the statisticians as having important social and economic implications in setting forth the chances that the head of a family may not live until his children are self-supporting or until the mortgage on his home is paid or other obligations to dependents have been met, and the probability that the wife will outlive her husband.

Sharpville Cagers Eliminated In Pennsylvania Playoff Series

Harrisburg, March 22—(AP)—Allentown, Swoyersville, Farrell and Westinghouse today are only two games away from the PIAA Class A state basketball championship.

The two eastern pacemakers, Allentown (District 11) and Swoyersville (District 2) will meet next Wednesday night at the Hershey arena for the eastern title.

Swoyersville's Sailors won the right to play in the important eastern finals by its 70-61 victory over Chambersburg, District 3 champs, last night.

Joe Holup, Swoyersville's towering center, was the victor's ace. He scored 32 points, mostly on push-ups from in front of the basket, in three quarters. The six-foot, five-inch fouled out in the last frame.

In the west, Westinghouse High school of Pittsburgh (District 8) romped to a one-sided 69-45 victory over Sharpville (District 10) and Farrell (District 7) defeated Johnstown (District 6) 54-39.

This pits Farrell against Westinghouse next Wednesday night for the western PIAA title. The winner of this contest meets the winner of the Swoyersville-Allentown tilt in the state championship game at Philadelphia March 31.

Ed Flemming of Westinghouse dumped in 23 points to spark his team to its 19th victory in 21 starts. George Deal had 25 markers for the losers.

Forward Bud McCoy of Farrell was high man with 16 points as

See DiMag's Talk of Quitting As Plea to Fans to Go Easy

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla.—(NEA)—Joe DiMaggio opened his 13th training season with the Yankees pinch-hitting and watching the extraordinary 18-year-old, Mickey Mantle, adjust himself to center field.

The day he arrived at the Phoenix camp the great DiMaggio indicated to the assembled baseball writers that this might be his last year. The Clipper came right out of his San Francisco home to say it. He didn't get it off his chest after a hard workout or an injury. This was a studied decision.

In the same mouthful, DiMag told what good shape he believed he was in. He never felt better, etc.

From this distance, one knowing DiMaggio, the fiery competitor and proud individual, is inclined to suspect he anticipates a tougher physical time each season.

He's 36, and this is his 20th season in organized baseball, including the three war years. He has been plagued by knees, arms, shoulders, heels and a gradual wear and tear.

A man of deep self-respect and a profound sense of obligation to his public, DiMaggio fears the opposite of the cheer when his spirit is willing and the flesh is weak.

It seems like a studied appeal to the fans, through the press, and without apology, that he senses an effort that might be out of reach at this late stage.

He can reach a peak now and then, but the fans might be relentless when, in the lull he fears, he's not the old DiMaggio.

Joe DiMaggio would like to bow out in style.

He doesn't want to be remembered as he was in the sere and yellow, as are altogether too many others.

ALBERT BENJAMIN CHANDLER really should resign before the expiration of his contract as commissioner, April 30, 1952, if for no other reason than to maintain his record.

An unusual twist to a career that was all political until Happy Chandler landed what he believed to be a baseball plum is that he never served the full term for which he was elected or appointed.

And for 18 years he held all the offices which the people of Kentucky could confer upon him—master commissioner in chancery, state senator, lieutenant-governor, governor and United States senator.

In his farewell address to the U. S. Senate, Oct. 29, 1945, Chandler pointed out that the odds against any man being elected commissioner of baseball were approximately 135,000,000-to-1.

Heavyweight King Says He's Married

Cincinnati, Mar. 22—(AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles finally admitted last night that he is married. But that was only half of it—he also is a father.

Charles, who had denied several times recently that he was married, said he and the former Miss Gladys Gartrell were married Dec. 30, 1949. He said their baby girl was born Feb. 13 at New Kensington, Pa.

The attractive Mrs. Charles and the baby are at her home in suburban Madisonville. Last night she declined to see newsmen.

Neither she nor the heavyweight king would say where they were married and Charles' only explanation of the secrecy of the marriage was that "I just thought it was best—being an athlete and everything."

Mrs. Charles is a native of Cincinnati and Ezzard said he first met her in 1945, shortly after he was discharged from the Army and while she was a senior in Withrow High School.

Charles was born in Atlanta, Ga., but has lived here virtually all his life.

City League Game Delayed 2nd Time

Tonight's scheduled Y City basketball contest between Smith and Lawton Athletics and the Rockets has been postponed for the second time, and is now set for Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Y.

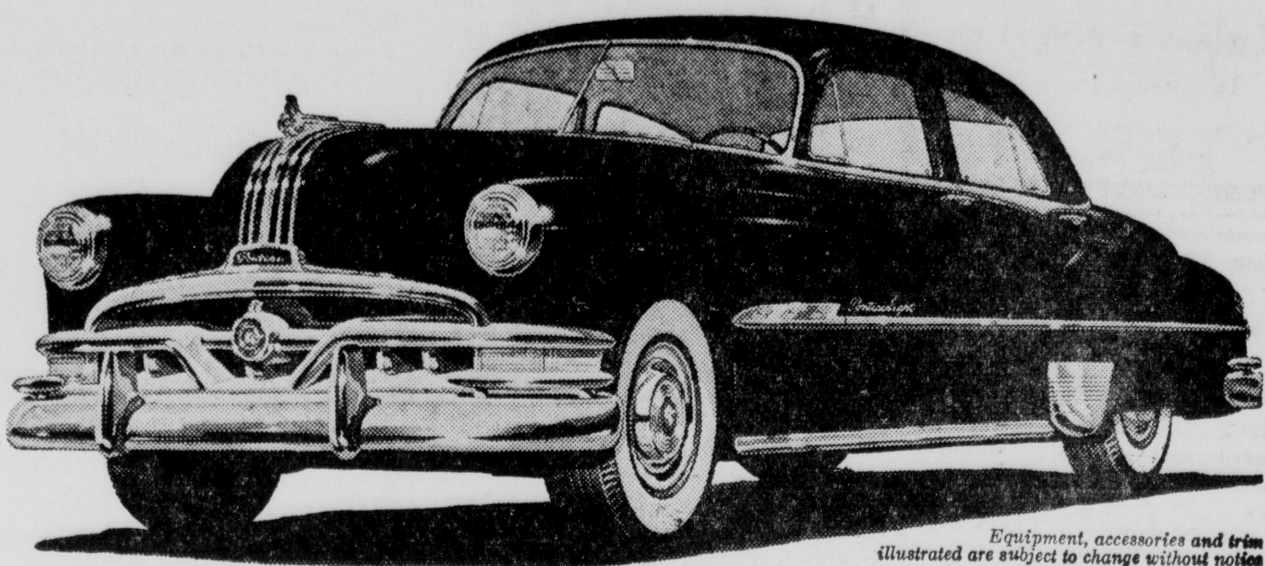

The contest, final one on the regular league schedule, was first slated for last Monday night, but was delayed because of illness among Atlantic players. The "flu bug" still holds its grip on several players, forcing another delay.

A preliminary scrap Monday at 7 will match two squads from last season's high school varsity and reserve squads.

A project that has done much to improve the state's ringneck pheasant population and to encourage good relations with the farmer has been the Game Commission's pheasant rearing program.

Last year, for the first time, day-old pheasant chicks from state game farms were distributed to farmers possessing proper equipment and whose lands were open to public hunting.

Previously, sportsmen's organizations, individuals and farm-game cooperators were permitted to rear the chicks.

In addition to furnishing the chicks, the Commission supplies 5 pounds of pheasant starting feed per bird and recompenses farmers at the rate of $1.00 for each fully feathered, healthy bird raised to 12 weeks of age and turned over to a representative of the Commission for liberation.

Requests for information on this program should be directed to a District Game Protector, a field division office or to the Game Commission's Game Propagation Division office, Harrisburg.

The number of pheasant chicks supplied for rearing under this program increased from about 120,000 in 1949 to 166,000 in 1950. The goal set for this year is 200,000.

Hunters often wonder what percent of large game is brought down through the use of weapons other than rifles. A breakdown of reports of deer and bears officially reported killed in Pennsylvania during the 1950 season provides some interesting information.

Of the 54,817 deer killed by hunters last year, 5,811 were felled by pumpkin balls or rifled slugs fired from shotguns, five were slain by bow hunters and one was taken through the use of a high caliber revolver.

Of the 354 legal bears reported slain in the 1950 season, 15 were brought down through the use of the shotgun, the remainder by the rifle.
